Charity is to recruit after £7m turnover

UP to 20 jobs are being created at a children's charity in Cannock following a record year.

Newlife has revealed a bumper Christmas trading period at its discount stores – with sales up eight per cent on the previous year.

It is also forecasting a record turnover when figures for 2013-14 are published in March.

Last year the trading company, which exists solely to support the UK-wide charity Newlife Foundation for Disabled Children, reported a turnover of more than £7million.

Jobs will come in both the charity and trading sides with posts for nurses, office managers, warehouse staff and others being created.

Fantastic

Newlife director Colin Brown said: "We are taking more operating space in the Cannock area and will be recruiting new posts.

"We have a fantastic workforce and it's thanks to all their hard work that the company continues to grow.

"We now hope to recruit more staff to short-term and permanent contracts.

"As all the profits go to help disabled and terminally ill children."

The organisation, with stores in Hemlock Way and Bridgtown, already boasts a 275-strong workforce.

Walk centres on war camps

A GUIDED walk on Cannock Chase will give visitors the chance to explore the area's military history.

The 'planes, trains and tanks' walk, on Wednesday January 29, will take in the remains of the First World War training camps.

Some of the foundations for huts at the Brocton and Rugeley camps can still be seen, while the remains of former practice trench systems also survive.

Cancer trust fundraiser rewarded for voluntary efforts

Rewarded – Stephen Sutton

A BURNTWOOD volunteer has been rewarded for his year-round dedication to the community.

Stephen Sutton, an ward winning fundraiser for Teenage Cancer Trust, has been named as a regional winner in the vInspired National Awards.

Now in its fifth year, the awards, in association with RBS Early Careers, celebrate the achievements and dedication of young volunteers and the youth workers who support them. They aim to challenge negative attitudes towards young people by highlighting the creativity, motivation and generosity of some of the most inspiring young volunteers in the country.

Stephen, a former Chase Terrace Technology College student, has been named regional winner for the West Midlands in the 'All Round Commitment to Volunteering' category.

The 18-year-old has raised £150,000 for the Teenage Cancer Trust since January last year. His achievement won him a Kids Count Inspiration Award in June and a newspaper's local community hero award in November.

Motivation

Stephen, who suffers from incurable bowel cancer, made raising as much money as he can one of his 'to do' items in a bucket list of 46 wishes.

Stephen said: "It's such an honour for me to be presented with this award. I don't volunteer for recognition, helping people is enough motivation. But it's great to know that people appreciate what I do."

Terry Ryall, vInspired CEO says: "Stephen is a complete inspiration and should be immensely proud of his achievements."

Katie Llewellyn-Cripps, RBS Early Careers and Campus Marketing, said: "We're proud to partner with vInspired on the National Awards and it's amazing to see the great work that volunteers such as Stephen are doing across the country."

The regional winners will be shortlisted to national finalists in February 2014 with the national award winners revealed at a star studded awards ceremony at the Indig02 in London on March 27.

BATTLE IS LOST ON DAY CARE CENTRE

CAMPAIGNERS have lost their fight to save from the axe a day service centre in Cannock for adults with learning disabilities.

Report by Laura Blyth

Staffordshire County Council's Cabinet agreed that the Chase Day Care Centre, in Longford Road, will close.

Campaigners had staged a protest against the proposals in Cannock town centre at the weekend ahead of a decision yesterday (Wednesday). The service will remain in Cannock, but at a different venue.

Provision

The Codsall centre in Histons Hill has also been earmarked for closure with service users to travel elsewhere. Other centres in Lichfield, Stafford, Kidsgrove, two in Newcastle, Burton and Tamworth will also either close, move or downsize.

The decision is part of a massive overhaul of services for disabled adults in the county..

Campaigners spoke of their disappointment after the meeting, adding they are now worried about the future of provision for adults with learning disabilities.

Dave Bailey, of Old Fallow Road, Cannock, whose son Stuart, aged 46, uses the facility, formerly known as the Eric Roberts Centre, said: "I was expecting cabinet to agree to this but it's still disappointing. I feel as if the decision had already been made anyway.

"It also worries me that private companies could run these services and the highly skilled and qualified people already there will be pushed out."

Cannock Chase Councillor and prospective Parliamentary candidate Janos Toth said: "I am concerned that the Chase Day Centre is to close. I have spoken with people affected by these changes and they are deeply concerned about closure of the centre and less provision.

"These cuts are hitting the most vulnerable in Cannock Chase, people who are the least equipped to cope."

Councillor Alan White, cabinet member for care, said: "There needs to be changes to the day opportunities for people with learning disabilities. We recognise as an authority that this is a sensitive area.

"There will be a transition period of around 18 months to two years," he added.

However, concerns about the changes were made by Councillor John Taylor, the leader of the opposition Labour Party.

He said: "We are extremely concerned about the pace of the changes and the major impact on carers."

Thirty per cent of service users with critical needs will continue to be cared for as they are now, it emerged. Services that move will be run by charities, community groups and even private companies.

The cabinet did agree that services for those with more complex needs will continue to be provided by the county council .

Great Wyrley councillor Kath Perry, chairman of the Healthy Staffordshire Select Committee, said the committee supported the changes overall, but said they had concerns about the pace of the changes.

Firm still on the road to success

Owner Dave Parry welcomes customers to the open day at Parrys International

AN award-winning coach tour company has invested £4 million in a new fleet of vehicles.

Parrys International, of Landywood Green, Cheslyn Hay, was on the brink of closure in 2013, its 40th anniversary year, after managing director Dave Parry announced he was retiring.

But customer power persuaded the firm to continue for the next few years.

Nine new coaches have been purchased, which are due to arrive in March and bosses say bookings for 2014 are already flooding in.

The firm held an open day last Sunday, where the new-look vehicles were on show, and 300 bookings, worth £45,000 were taken.

Effect on schools from HS2 is probed

THE impact of building HS2 on two primary schools along part of the controversial route is being investigated.

Hayes Meadow Primary in Handsacre is one of the schools along the nine-mile stretch of the West Coast Main Line which could be overhauled as part of the £50 billion project. Colwich Primary is the other.

The full repercussions of the work are not known but Staffordshire County Council is to work with both schools to make sure children's education or health is not disrupted.

Increase

Hayes Meadow is within 65ft of the construction work and an environmental assessment by HS2 Ltd states the work could affect quality due to an increase in traffic.

The Victorian Grade II listed Colwich Church of England Primary School is located south of the railway track.

The West Coast Main Line from Little Haywood to Lichfield will undergo a series of changes to help it join up with the HS2 line.

New signalling equipment, track alignment alterations, some crossovers to allow trains to switch tracks, and some minor alterations to overhead line electrification will be carried out.

Insurance dodgers crusade continues

A CRACKDOWN on car insurance dodgers in Staffordshire will continue this year, the county's Police & Crime Commissioner has pledged.

The campaign, called Cars Behind Bars, has already led to the seizing of more than 1,250 vehicles.

Launched seven months ago, it will now be extended into 2014 after hitting a new milestone.

The zero-tolerance crusade has been heralded a success with cars, vans, motorcycles, mopeds, lorries and even a tractor seized, with many of the vehicles scrapped as a result.

PCC Matthew Ellis said: "The zero-tolerance approach on insurance dodgers has become the most popular thing raised with me by people I've spoken to across Staffordshire.

"It's definitely struck a chord with law-abiding motorists who are hit by rising premiums because of these law-breakers. Over 1,250 people have already had to learn their lesson the hard way."

He said the message was hitting home as the number of insured motorists on Staffordshire's roads had risen significantly during the period of the campaign.

Officers swoop on unsuspecting motorists after they have been captured on a series of cameras. Those guilty face a £300 fixed-penalty notice, six points on their licence and having their car towed away to a police compound.

The initiative uses the automatic number plate recognition (ANPR) system to identify offenders.

Chief Supt Jon Drake said: "In seconds the ANPR system identifies vehicles that are uninsured, as well as those that have no tax or suspected of being involved in other crimes."

Gang members jailed over terrifying raids

MEMBERS of a gang who dragged a woman in Cannock from her expensive motor as her 13-year-old daughter looked on have been jailed for a string of terrifying raids.

One of their victims, a heartbroken widow, branded the masked raiders who stole her late husband's £10,000 watch as scum.

As Ross Underwood was jailed for seven years and three months, his 53-year-old victim said: "They are scumbags without morals."

The mother-of-two said: "No woman should have to live in fear in her own house.

"I know I am lucky not to have been badly hurt physically but this has done terrible damage to me mentally."

Underwood was sentenced alongside Richard Howell, 37, who had joined him on three robberies, though not that at the widow's Woodsetton home.

Crook

Wolverhampton Crown Court also heard the pair dragged another woman from her £22,000 Audi TT in front of her 13-year-old daughter at the Orbital Retail Park in Cannock around 11am on August 13.

The pair struck with another crook at the Spar in Lapwood Avenue, Kingswinford, the next night, armed with a crowbar, and filled bins with £8,000 worth of cigarettes after threatening women staff.

Howell – who was only freed from jail three months earlier – and Underwood then stole £3,000 cigarettes and cash from the Co-Op in Dudley Road West, Tividale.

Underwood, aged 28, and Howell were arrested in Gornal after being linked to the stolen Audi. It was discovered in a lock-up garage in Rifle Street, Coseley.

Howell, of Carder Crescent, Bilston, and Underwood, of Damson Wharf, Tipton both admitted conspiracy to rob.

"At the end of the course you'll have your own wonderful chocolate truffles to share with your friends and family or eat yourself."

Manager Gaynor Taylor, centre, and staff, mark the Barnardo's store's first birthday

CUSTOMERS were served cakes as volunteers and staff celebrated a charity shop's first birthday. The Barnardo's store at Chase Gateway in Victoria Street, Hednesford marked the occasion on Tuesday.

Store manager Gaynor Taylor paid tribute to customers, staff and loyal volunteers as well as the store's very supportive neighbouring businesses who have donated raffle prizes for fundraising events during the year. She said: "We've had a wonderful first year and I'd like to say a big thank you to our wonderful customers who buy and make donations. I also owe a big thank you to all our volunteers who have helped make our first year a success.

"There is a strong community spirit here with everyone really pulling together. I've been so impressed with how supportive other businesses in the area have been."

The store is open Monday to Friday 9am-5.30pm and 10am-4pm on Sundays.

Conman in guilty plea over £3k fraud

A CONMAN has pleaded guilty to tricking internet customers out of almost £3,000.

Jamie Forsyth, of Elmdon Close, Penkridge, admitted 11 charges of fraud by false representation after stating he had items to sell when he did not. The offences involved sums ranging from £130 to £360.

Mr Giles Rowden, prosecuting, said Forsyth advertised fictitious items for sale on the Gumtree website.

Identical

The 30-year-old is to appear at Stafford Crown Court in February for a plea and case management hearing on identical charges, Cannock magistrates heard.

The older offences date back to September 2012. Forsyth was sent to Stafford for sentence on the latest charges at a date to be arranged. He was granted bail.

Dunelm to open its new unit in the spring

The site of new Dunelm, at Linkway Retail Park, Cannock

A HOME furnishings firm has this week announced it will move on to a Cannock retail park in the spring.

The store will employ 80 members of staff.

Dunelm is to close its store in High Green and relocate to Linkway Retail Park, which is home to McDonalds and Halfords, but has been blighted by closures.

Dunelm will take over a 20,000sq ft unit being rebuilt on the plot of the former Focus DIY store, which has stood empty for almost two years since the firm went into administration. The park has been hit by a series of closures but work is under way to rebuild and extend one of the vacant units off the A5 at Longford Island.

Account manager Naomi Lane said: "We can confirm that Dunelm will be opening in spring 2014.

Blow

The store will employ up to 80 members of temporary and permanent staff."

However, the news has not gone down well with some councillors who say it is a blow for a town centre already suffering from the loss of big name companies such as Thorntons, Burton and Evans.

Cannock South councillor Maureen Freeman said: "It is a shame that the High Green store is closing because it is very popular and it means there will be yet another empty unit in the town which we do not need.

"I have been aware for some time that the store is relocating and I think it is a dreadful shame."

Football fan threw a smoke bomb into crowd at cup tie

A HEDNESFORD Town fan has been ordered to pay more than £300 after throwing a smoke bomb into the crowd during a match.

Teenager Daniel Edwards was told he could have killed someone when he threw the device during the game against AFC Telford United.

by Jon Pritchard

A court heard he was aiming at the pitch but it fell short and landed among the crowd. He could now face a ban from attending matches when he faces court again.

Edwards, from Park Road, Norton Canes, appeared before Telford magistrates and admitted throwing a missile at a spectators area.

It happened during the third round FA Cup qualifying match on September 28, which Hednesford won 3-1.

Standing

Mr Mike Phillips, prosecuting, said: "He lit the smoke bomb and threw it towards the pitch but it landed within the crowd. He was also found to be in possession of a further smoke bomb.

"He was standing among the Hednesford fans in the Frank Nagington Stand. He was arrested and admitted the offence."

Mr Steve Cobley, defending, said: "All of us in our teenage years have done silly things and this is a very silly thing.

"He knows the court take a dim view of his behaviour.

"He has a letter from the managing director of the company who he works for which says, despite him only being on a temporary contract, that he is a valued member of the work force.

"I know you will never see this man in a court again."

Edwards was given a £240 fine, ordered to pay £85 costs and a £24 victim surcharge. He will find out at a later hearing if he will be subject to a football banning order.

Mrs Maries Wilkes, chairman of the bench, said: "Had you come into this court with a previous record the sentence would be very different. You are a very fortunate young man. It could have been fatal to someone."

Last month five men were ordered by police to sign football behaviour contracts following trouble at a Hednesford/Telford game. If they breach the contract, they could be landed with football banning orders.

Staffordshire Police also made three arrests following crowd trouble at Hednesford's FA Cup defeat to Crawley Town in November.

New powers for parishes

TWO parish councils have taken steps to gaining powers to decide where to site new homes, shops, offices and other developments. The new powers can also protect green spaces and influence what buildings should look like.

Burntwood Town Council has applied, together with Wall Parish Council, designate their parishes as 'neighbourhood areas'. Councillor Ian Pritchard, Lichfield District Council's cabinet member for economic growth and development, said: "I would encourage people to have their say."

The first winter snow on Penkridge Bank Road on Cannock Chase on Tuesday

Ice on roads causes havoc

A WHITE blanket of snow, frost and ice covered parts of the region, causing havoc on the roads.

The Chase was covered in snow on Tuesday, while roads in Burntwood and parts of Cannock were heavily covered by frost overnight.

Police said they were dealing with at least 20 accidents across the county, including two separate incidents in Abbots Bromley.

The road was partially blocked both ways on the B5014 Uttoxeter Road where three cars were involved in a smash. The road was also blocked at Watery Lane junction by the Blithfield reservoir.

Martin White, aged 56, of Abbots Bromley, said: "As I came out of the village I felt the road was icy and saw three cars really badly smashed up in a fence and in the hedge. I tried to go towards Rugeley to get through Col-ton and there was another accident.

"As I drove over the Chase it was covered in snow. We had some frost and ice in Abbots Bromley, there was a lot of snow on the Chase but when I arrived in Penkridge there was nothing."

NEWS in brief

Boosting exports 'key to economy'

BUSINESS leaders in Cannock Chase have said boosting exports is vital to the area's economy.

The UK deficit on trade in goods and services had reduced to £3.2 billion in November 2013, compared with a deficit of £3.5bn in October, but imports from the EU reached £19.2bn in November, a record high.

Chase Chamber director Chris Plant said the balance between imports and exports needed addressing and added more support was needed for small to medium enterprises to help them trade internationally.

He said: "Boosting exports must be a national economic priority, particularly when it comes to diversifying our exports towards faster-growing economies

"Even within Europe, there is scope to do this, as central and eastern European economies such as Poland are growing faster than our traditional trading partners."

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

I WROTE a few days ago about how the free movement of Labour within the EU has stripped some regions of their population. A reader writes: "It's January 9 and I have not seen a Bulgarian yet. To be fair, I've only been in Bulgaria for three days."

UP in the attic I found a 1997 copy of Punch. It recorded the 10th anniversary of the death of Liberace and explained how, by legal threats, pay-offs and the sheer power of his celebrity status, the star managed to keep his sexual preferences a secret for years. Couldn't possibly happen now, could it?

UNTIL I saw Nick Robinson's programme, modestly entitled The Truth About Immigration, (BBC2) I thought it would be impossible to make a 60-minute documentary addressing people's concerns without once mentioning jihad, sharia courts, forced marriage, electoral fraud, urban overcrowding, road safety, women in veils, genital mutilation, gangmaster slavery, the rise of TB, pickpockets, aggressive begging or terrorist plots. Robinson managed to treat mass migration purely as an economic issue. His conclusion? Basically, everything's fine. Another triumph for Auntie Beeb.

FROM a long, long list of internet gags about England's dismal drubbing in the Ashes, I had to smile at this: What do you get if you cross the English cricket team with an Oxo cube? A laughing stock.

IT IS alleged that ministers and officials had more than 100 meetings with the drinks industry before deciding not to impose alcohol price controls. So what's new? The relationship between the drinks industry and Parliament is a long and jolly one which, over the years has given us the great national gifts of cheap booze, 24-hour drinking and super-strength lager. But of course all vested interests use alcohol in the process of lobbying. In the good old days some honourable members were so well lobbied that they slid off the benches in the Commons after lunch. Absolutely lobbied.

HOW the economy works. The wicked finance industry mis-sells payment-protection insurance to millions of customers. The customers later receive compensation. They use this compensation for the deposits on new cars (sales are now at the highest level for six years). They borrow the rest of the money to buy the cars. Their repayments provide a glorious bonanza for – the wicked finance industry.

BENEFITS Street (C4) was a depressing study of the shoplifting, drug-addicted underclass in one of the scrattier ends of Birmingham. It was peppered with foul language but in this sad little community, only one four-letter word has the power to shock. One resident was visibly rocked at the news that he was being lined up for a work programme. "Work?" he said in disgust. "I've never worked in me life."

YOU could not fail to be impressed by the home-delivery service in Benefits Street. It is faster than John Lewis, simpler than eBay, more user-friendly than PayPal. I refer, of course, to the drugs deliveries. Just pick up the phone and your stash arrives at your door within minutes. Idiotic politicians still talk fiercely about "the war on drugs." The truth is they put up the white flag and surrendered years ago.

BENEFITS Street now stands accused of giving viewers tips on shoplifting. And why not? Thieving from shops has been virtually decriminalised. It is "punished" with a fixed-penalty ticket which puts it on a par with not wearing your seat belt. No wonder so many Brits regard shoplifting as a career choice. I was once shown the perfect way to steal from shelves by a manager at a branch of Woolworths who was helping me with a feature on shoplifting. It was a very neat, undetectable move which I would share were it not for the threat of a bored copper reading me a caution.

Take it as red that MP backs cause

CONSERVATIVE MP Aidan Burley will be wearing the colours of the opposition tor a day next month – but all in the name of charity.

The Cannock Chase representative is supporting a campaign by the British Heart Foundation and will done red for a fundraising day on February 7.

Normally the colour associated with political opponents Labour, Mr Burley is putting his Parliamentary allegiances aside to wear the bright colour for the Ramp Up the Red initiative. It aims to raise awareness and money to help fight coronary heart disease.

During the day, Mr Burley will welcome a group of Cannock South constituents to Parliament for a tour and has also invited them to get involved and take part in the event.

The MP has previously supported the British Heart Foundation in Cannock Chase by volunteering to spend a morning working in their Cannock town centre shop, and supporting the BHF Heart Start campaign on a visit to St Joseph's Catholic Primary School in Rugeley last year.

Affected

He said: "The 'Ramp up the Red' campaign is a fantastic opportunity for everyone to think about how many lives are affected by heart disease. My own family has been affected, and I realise that many people know first-hand how devastating it can be.

"I am very pleased to be taking part, and to be encouraging my constituents to do the same

"I am looking forward to dusting off my bright red socks and braces to help support the vital work of the British Heart Foundation."

Probe into drink-drive name and shame tweets

AN investigation has been launched into whether Staffordshire's controversial name and shame drink-drive Twitter campaign was illegal.

The Information Commissioner's Office is looking into whether its decision to publicly tweet the names of those in the county caught driving over the permitted alcohol limit breached the Data Protection Act.

by Kirsten Rawlins

The force used its official Twitter account, @StaffsPolice, for the experiment as part of their annual festive anti-drink drive campaign.

All names were published alongside the hashtag #DrinkDriversNamedOnTwitter.

The move drew criticism of Staffordshire's Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis, who supported the experiment, over the naming of people who had not yet been given the chance of a fair trial.

Criticism

The ICO is now investigating whether the campaign breached the first principle of the act, which states all personal information must be fairly and lawfully processed.

Press officer for the ICO, David Murphy, confirmed the investigation had begun.

He said: "We are taking at look into whether Staffordshire Police's Twitter campaign has breached the Data Protection Act," said Mr Murphy.

"We are looking into it to see whether publishing the names of those stopped with that hashtag fits with the Data Protection Act.

"There are eight principles of the act which must be abided by.

"We are looking into whether Staffordshire Police has breached the first of these which states all personal information must be fairly and lawfully processed."

Celebrity lawyer Nick Freeman has already accused Mr Ellis of showing a 'cavalier' attitude to the fundamental principle of innocent until proven guilty with his justification of the Christmas clampdown. He said the comments were prejudicial and called on Mr Ellis to stand down from his £75,000- a-year post.

Mr Ellis defended the campaign, but said a review of the process would be carried out. He said he had asked the Chief Constable to assess the campaign.

Staffordshire was one of 12 forces to take part.

Mr Ellis said the debate created had been 'helpful in raising the issue of drink driving.'

He said: "I now want to understand whether it was successful, the impact it had and how effectively it was carried out by the police.

"The Chief Constable will provide that report to me, along with specific areas that I'm keen to understand more about and I look forward to receiving it."

The evaluation, due out in two weeks, will look at the operational procedures used by Staffordshire Police and also the advice provided by Association of Chief Police Officers who instigated the national drink drive campaign.

Mr Ellis said: "It's absolutely right that Staffordshire Police should be proactively trying to stop things from happening before they do. That is a key priority for me."

By George – he's such a hero

George Raybould, aged 12, of Cannock, receives his Christmas Star award from Natal Chapman, the manager of Cannock Shopping Centre

A 12-YEAR-old boy has been praised for putting others first and was presented with a £25 Argos gift voucher and an engraved Star award.

Cannock Shopping Centre manager Natal Chapman presented the Christmas Star award to George Raybould.

He became the latest winner of the shopping centre's ongoing search for unsung heroes in the community.

George was nominated by his mother, Nikki Raybould. She said her son had shown extreme maturity beyond his years after his brother, William, was diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukaemia in 2010.

George looks after his younger sister on a regular basis at friends' and families' houses while William is taken to hospital for treatment, sometimes overnight. His mother added that he always puts the happiness of his family before himself.

Ms Chapman said: "George is such an inspirational young man and certainly deserves acknowledgement for all he does for his brother and the rest of his family.

Admirable

"There are not many 12-year-olds who have gone through what he has and dealt with it in such a mature and admirable way.

"The Star Awards have certainly discovered a number of unsung heroes in our community and really do highlight how many incredible people there are out there."

Market's manager offers a free stall

FREE market stalls are on offer in Penkridge in a bid to help new businesses and entrepreneurs.

Penkridge Market has launched the initiative to businesses within the parish to either test out a new venture or to promote an existing idea.

Market manager Matt Williams said: "We realise that people visiting the market may not be aware of the businesses in Penkridge itself, so we really want to help local businesses promote themselves to a new audience and hopefully gain new customers.

"We know how tough it is for any business during this difficult economic climate, but especially for anyone starting up a business.

We really hope the free stall offer will help attract and create some new exciting businesses."

Businesses are offered a 10 foot pitch on the market on either a Wednesday or a Saturday. Each business can use the pitch for one day, per year, on a first come first served basis.

For further information, or to book a stall, call Matt Williams on 01785 714221.

Consultation over the future of youth clubs

PEOPLE can have a say on the possible closure of youth clubs in Staffordshire.

As part of £109million cuts, the county council has launched a consultation.

The authority is considering moving away from a traditional youth service open to all. Instead, it says, it would 'target' the young people most in need, while working closer with other community and voluntary organisations to provide activities.

Councillor Mark Sutton, the county council's cabinet support member for public health and community safety, said: "We want to give every young person in Staffordshire the opportunity to realise their potential, do well at school and find a good job. In a rapidly changing world, we also need to adapt and change the way we operate so that we provide the support and activities that young people want and need today and into the future.

"This proposal would see support directed at those young people who need it most.

"We will also work with all our partners to ensure there is a real choice of activities, as well as information and advice for all young people. We believe this approach will help young people help themselves to make the right choices in life, while delivering better value for money for local people.

"Over the next seven weeks we want to hear from local people, and we will be listening to what they tell us, before making a final decision on the proposal at cabinet in March."

The youth services cover young people aged 13 to 19 or up to 25 for those with a learning difficulty or disability.

Currently, the county council provides a service for all children. However, four out of five of the 73,315 young people in Staffordshire did not use the service in the last year, which cost £8.73m to provide. The consultation runs until February 26 with documents available on the council's website, or paper copies available on request.

As part of money saving plans, the county council wants to cut £109m worth of spending over the next five years.

Steve Elsey, county branch secretary of Unison, whose members have been given details of the proposed changes to youth services, said: "It's impossible to see how the council will meet its objectives in terms of these savings without significantly affecting the number of staff it employs."

Destination anywhere as new Parrys fleet unveiled

JUST over a year ago, a popular coach firm announced it was to close in its 40th anniversary year.

Now 12 months on, Parrys International has unveiled a new £4million fleet of luxury coaches to ensure it will continue for the foreseeable future.

Some 2,000 flocked to the Cheslyn Hay firm's annual open day on Sunday, and in just five hours the firm took 300 trip bookings worth £45,000.

Managing director Dave Parry, aged 65, said he was reversing his decision to retire after customer and supplier power persuaded him to carry on, securing the job of 40 workers in the process.

Mr Parry, a sponsor and former Wolves Speedway boss, said: "The response was incredible. A year ago we were closing. We had suppliers and customers demanding we stay operating so we changed our minds.

"The thing is we had slowly begun winding down so we had no plan. We have had to upgrade the fleet by spending some £4 million meaning we will be here for at least the next 10 years.

Display

"The staff would have been made redundant but now they have their jobs secure for the foreseeable future."

Two luxurious coaches were on display at the company's base in Landywood Green.

They will form part of its 11-strong fleet with nine new coaches arriving in March and include individual entertainment systems embedded into the rear of each seat.

Packages include stays with top hotel chains such as Hilton and Marriott.

Continental destinations include Italy, Austria, Spain and Germany all with comfortable overnight stops and short breaks to Paris, the Dutch bulbfields, Bruges and Ireland.

Bernard and Pat Smith have been travelling with Parrys for more than 20 years and have already booked six breaks for 2014.

Mr Smith, 75, said: "The packages are unrivalled.We were both quite upset when we heard they were to close but we are delighted that they will be continuing."

Michael and Barbara Taylor, from Tamworth, have been travelling with Parrys for more than 10 year and in 2012 they went on four holidays with the firm.

Mrs Taylor, 68, said: "We were very upset when we thought they would close."

Anyone interested in this should look at completed work on www.bfhg.org.uk

There is no charge for this. Families are presented with a printed version when the work is complete.

IN MY VIEW WITH MARK ANDREWS

IMPROVE: make or become better (Oxford English Dictionary).

I only quote this definition because 128,000 households across Dudley are being promised an 'improved' waste collection service over the coming weeks.

Speaking as one of the lucky few who has already benefited from this 'improved' service for a number of months, I can give you a sneak preview of what lies in store.

The boring, old-fashioned service, where the binmen used to collect your bags once a week, will be replaced with an exciting new one where you have to sort your waste into five different containers: a blue bag for paper, a green bag for plastic milk bottles and cans, a giant green bin for grass cuttings, glass bottles in a black box, and a wheelie bin for general waste.

Oh and you will have to pay for your own bin bags from now on, as well, assuming you don't want your wheelie bin to smell like a Victorian cesspit. Bet you can't wait now, can you?

Of course, it is all too easy to have a pop at local councils, which are caught in the middle of a perfect storm between ridiculous EU recycling directives, extortionate landfill taxes, and budget cuts. The councils are between a rock and a hard place, and we should sympathise with their predicament.

But please, please, don't try to spin this as some kind of improvement.

SOME people's belief that the internet is the panacea for all problems knows no bounds.

Take Stephen McLaughlin, for example. He is the father-to-be who thought it would be a good idea to turn the impending birth of his daughter into some kind of online reality show, where followers of his website - NameMyDaughter.com - will decide on what she is called.

It probably comes as little surprise that

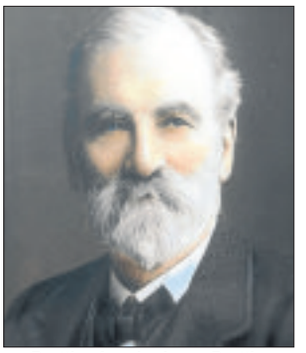
Suggestions to date have included Cthulhu, Laquisha, Megatron and Slagathor, with Pond, Salad and Titanium cited as possible second names.

At the moment it looks like the child will be called Amelia All-Spark when she arrives in this world on April 2, so it could have been worse - although I'm torn about whether this sounds more like a failed 1970s disco group or a new brand of environmentally-friendly van.

And think that 20 years down the line, this poor lass is going to be filling out job application forms saddled with this stupid moniker just because her dad thought it would be cool and fun.

Still, perhaps she should be grateful she isn't going to be called System Error. That's what usually comes up on my computer.

Cutting the ribbon at the official opening of the Beatties store extension in Victoria Street, Wolverhampton



Beatties founder James Beattie

We felt like part of the Beatties family

The history of the city's most iconic and successful businesses is being laid bare as WILL ACKERMANN explains

"WOLVERHAMPTON is Beatties and Beatties is Wolverhampton."

It is one of the city's most iconic and successful businesses – and now the history of Beatties is being laid bare like never before.

The landmark department store has handed over hundreds of old photographs and documents to the Wolverhampton City Archives, where a selection are going on display.

The exhibition, titled A Better Place to Shop: The Story of Beatties, includes sales catalogues dating back as far as the 1890s, as well as archived newspaper advertisements, photographs and menus from celebration dinners.

Demolished

Each item in the treasure trove of documents and artefacts is accompanied by an explanatory note, outlining its place in the company's 136-year history.

Organiser Karen Davies, the City Archives' cataloguing archivist, who worked at the store as a sales consultant for five years until 2000, said: "If you ask anyone living in Wolverhampton and beyond, everyone knows Beatties.

"When I worked there people used to say they only came to Wolverhampton to shop at Beatties. It was like the Harrods of Wolverhampton. The purpose of this exhibition is to make the public aware just how important Beatties was to the retail history of the city."

The company was founded in Victoria Street by local draper and businessman James Beattie. It opened in 1877, when it was called the Victoria Draper Supply Store. By 1895, the firm employed 40 members of staff and was enjoying an annual turnover of £30,000.

But fortunes took a turn for the worse when, only a year later, a huge fire forced it to be demolished and rebuilt.

The blaze also destroyed much of the store's stock. What remained had to be sold to buy more items to refill the shelves. Fortunately, the owners recovered from the potentially devastating incident, and by the turn of the century they were back on their feet.

But then, in 1912, a second fire struck, prompting another rebuild, which included changing the shop facade for the first time since the store had first opened 35 years earlier.

An extension was then built leading out into Darlington Street in the 1930s.

At the same time as the cosmetic and structural changes were taking place, management were making alterations on the operational side of the business.

During the early 1920s, the company adopted limited liability, becoming James Beattie Ltd, making it an entity of its own in the eyes of the law for the first time. In 1964, the firm became a Public Limited Company, James Beattie PLC, meaning customers could now buy its shares on the stock market.

Perhaps the most significant moment in the company's history, however, came in 2005, when the firm was taken over by department store chain House of Fraser. It had been an independent family-run business since its inception, so the move sparked outrage among many workers.

Ninety-four-year-old Mary Boddy, who was the company's catering manager for 35 years until retiring in 1980, was less than impressed at the time. She organised for two coachloads of Beatties employees from various branches to head down to London for a protest.

But now she is more than happy with the way her former workplace is run, and says it has retained everything that always made it so special.

Mrs Boddy, who worked under James Beattie Junior, known to employees as Jimmy, said: "To me, Wolverhampton is Beatties and Beatties is Wolverhampton.

"It was absolutely wonderful to work there. I'd go back tomorrow if Jimmy Beattie was still alive.

Wonderful

"He used to come around the store every morning with his little black book in his pocket. He was a real gentleman, but if you saw that black book you thought, 'Oh no.'

"Many times I was called in to his office. I was a cheeky thing." Mrs Boddy, of Finchfield, Wolverhampton, remembers how everyone working for Beatties felt 'part of the same family', and such is their bond that she still organises monthly meetings for former staff.

She is also one of those to have donated personal items to House of Fraser for its archives, which it handed to Wolverhampton City Archives in July.

The exhibition has been divided into four glass cabinet displays, each chronicling a different period in the company's history, plus four wall displays featuring pictures of the Beatties family and of the company at key moments in its past.

Beatties also opened branches in Solihull, Birkenhead, Aylesbury, Birmingham Dudley, and Northampton, the latter three of which have since closed.

The exhibition will run until March 29.

THROUGH THE YEARS

HURRICANE force winds of up to 80mph wrought havoc to the West Midlands. The roof of some maisonettes in the Blakenhall area of Wolverhampton was blown across a road minutes before dozens of schoolchildren passed by. The roof of a grocery shop in Wolverhampton's Cannock Road also fell onto a car, but the couple inside were able to clamber out.

SOARING tea prices sparked a wave of panic buying across the West Midlands, with fears that supplies could run out if calm did not return to the market. Many supermarkets introduced tea rationing after the Indian government announced new export restrictions. Phil Parkes, who owned W T M Snape tea merchants in Queen Street, Wolverhampton, said there had been customers queuing outside.

THE new Bishop of Wolverhampton sparked a political storm saying he did not believe Government minister Tim Yeo should have resigned over his adultery. Rt Rev Michael Bourke said: "Everyone knows politics is not a vicarage tea party. We have always had adulterous rulers and leaders." But chairman of Wolverhampton South West Conservative Association, Councillor Mrs Roseanne Williams, was outraged saying the comments were unbecoming of a bishop.

MOURNERS packed into St Peter's Collegiate Church in Wolverhampton for the funeral of Leslie Stallard, the chairman of the Stars news shops chain. The 78-year-old had died following a stroke. He had spent 65 years with Midland News Association, the parent company of the Express & Star.

HAROLD Shipman died after hanging himself with his bed sheets in his prison cell.

Shipman, Britain's most prolific serial killer, is thought to have been responsible for more than 215 murders. The former GP was serving a life sentence at Wakefield Prison following his conviction of murdering 15 patients.

VIEWS you would be unlikely to see in a guide book were set to feature in a calendar depicting a town's biggest eyesores. Stourbridge Township Council, an independent pressure group, was seeking to publish a calendar depicting the town's biggest eyesores in an attempt to shame Dudley Council to spruce up rundown areas. The group was seeking nominations for sights which could appear on the calendar, with derelict properties and a dingy subway among those being considered.

Red sky in a morning, Met Office warning

A PHOTOGRAPHER captured this stunning sunrise shot near Burntwood.

As the weather turns colder, the sky over the countryside of Staffordshire was lit up with yellows and oranges in this seasonal snap taken from Hanney Hay Road in Chasetown, Burntwood.

The colourful photo was taken at around 8am on Sunday by Express & Star group chief photographer Tim Thursfield. It comes as forecasters predict more cully conditions. Temperatures have been predicted to stay between 4C (39.2F) and 9C (48.2F) during the daytime during this week and they could fall as low as 1C (33.8F).

Flood warnings are still in place across the country. Officials say the risk of flooding will remain in place.

Town's big market plan

A BUMPER new market is set to launch in Rugeley which will include stalls from narrow boats on the canal.

The ambitious plans will see an extensive range of food and drink as well as arts and crafts sold across the town centre and on the Trent and Mersey Canal.

Susan Pettitt, who runs a website which offers help to British market traders, is behind the idea.

More than 30 traders have already signed up to the Rugeley Farmers and Craft Market with shops in the town also getting involved.

It is hoped it will take place for the first time on Saturday, February 22 and then again on every fourth Saturday of the month.

Injection

The 47-year-old grandmother, who moved to the town 18 months ago, said Rugeley was the 'ideal' place for such a market. She said: "I think this is really exciting for Rugeley and is the sort of injection it needs."

Ms Pettitt started the website www.selltoearn.com during the recession after her photography business collapsed.

She added: "I have had so much interest from traders in the town and other traders from outside who want to come to Rugeley. With the canal and the town centre it is such a great location."

Rugeley Town Council chairman John Rowley welcomed the plans. He said: "Anything that can help revive the town centre is welcome.

"Susan approached us and we were all impressed by what she has plans."

Claim for rate relief is lacking in merit

I REFER to the letter from Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley, January 2, regarding his MP's help zone which gets no rates discount.

When the MP's expenses in his first year were published, he had racked up £133,486, way ahead of the county's next most expensive MP, Paul Farrelly of Newcastle under Lyme.

But his attempt to blame Cannock's Labour-run council for part of his high level of expenses because they refused to give him a rate cut on his help zone lacks merit.

He claims he should get a rate reduction because all other Citizens Advice Centres in Cannock Chase are given up to 90 per cent discounts on rates. That is because most of their advisers are working voluntarily and are overworked – mainly due to his party's cuts on the weakest in society.

Make overseas trade a priority

BEFORE we think of leaving the EU, stop and consider the following. How do we control foreign companies that own British assets, ie Rugeley Power Station, owned by EDF, from putting up their prices whenever it suits them?

The EU does not and will not consider Britain, and I believe they will go out of their way to make things difficult for us. So before this happens we need to make the establishment of overseas trade a priority, and begin to establish control of our own country.

A good example of EU control is the spiteful behaviour of the Spanish regarding the long waiting times for people crossing over to Gibraltar.

The EU has looked into the matter and decided Spain is doing nothing wrong.

No doubt if we held up Spanish people entering Britain to that extent the EU would step in and cry human rights violation. In the final analysis, the future for Britain – in or out of the EU – is bleak, and until all our politicians start pulling together rather than acting like a bunch of spoiled kids, and tackle the problem with honesty and common sense we will get nowhere.

County's roads such a disgrace

SO the Tories who run Staffordshire County Council think that our roads are so smooth that you can kiss the tarmac and play pool on them. What planet do they live on?

Perhaps our complacent, conceited and completely out of touch Tories should come and view the roads in Cannock, Hednesford and Rugeley.

If they can find a few metres of road here that you can play pool on then it will be a miracle. Our roads are a disgrace.

You can always tell when you are in Staffordshire by the poor state of our roads.

There are still plenty of pot holes from last winter, never mind the new pot holes that are going to appear during the next few months.

Instead of living in cloud cuckoo land the Tories need to get real and see things how they really are.

Request for refund on tickets

I WAS originally issued with a ticket for "illegal" parking in Victoria Street, Cannock, on October 12.

Cannock Chase Council Parking Services finally cancelled my ticket on January 3, but still maintained that the bays were "clearly and correctly marked with both road markings and signage".

To verify, I drove into Victoria Street from Wolverhampton Road and found there is still no signage in place from the point where these parking bays are initially marked out.

Drivers who turn into Victoria Street, park in the first bay and then walk into Cannock would not have to walk further down Victoria Street and see the first restriction sign. Consequently they would have no indication of any restrictions and would receive a ticket for "illegal" parking.

I recommend the council installs the correct signage in the correct position or refund all the fines paid out.

Thank you to helpers after fall from bike

I WOULD like to express my heartfelt thanks to the passers-by who went to the aid of my teenage daughter who fell off her bike on Stafford Lane, Hednesford, on January 4. She sustained a nasty cut to her head and was unconscious for a few minutes. But thanks to these caring people, especially Frederick Smith and his wife who very kindly called for an ambulance and stayed with her until they arrive.

She is doing okay, and , part from a bad cut and a headache for a few days, will heal in time. My daughter and I will be in debt to you guys for rest of our lives and can only thank you from bottom of our hearts.

Thank you again to you all i cannot thank you all enough for your act of kindness.

Know truth about EDL

THANK you for your informative report, Chronicle, January 2, on the sentencing of 31 EDL thugs for violence on our streets. The organisation uses brutality to try to spread its message of hatred and to create division in our communities and I believe the truth should be known.

Nationalise toll road call

I COULD not agree more with the small front page item 'Nationalise M6 Toll call', Chronicle, January 2. HS2 would benefit the rich few and would disrupt the countryside for many. Though it is too dear to use, the M6 Toll already exists and would benefit many more.

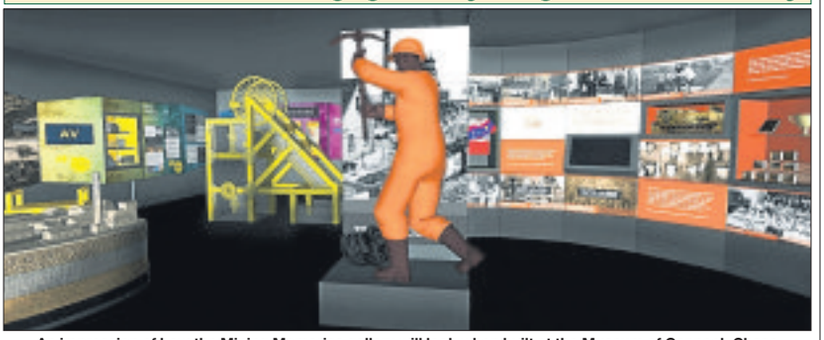
Interactive mining gallery digs into history



An impression of how the Mining Memories gallery will look when built at the Museum of Cannock Chase

AN IMAGE has been released of how new £100,000 interactive mining exhibition will look. The Mining Memories gallery at the Museum of Cannock Chase will give visitors the chance to experience a day in the life of a coal worker.

Work on the exhibition began in December, with a finishing date set for the third week in March. It is hoped the gallery will open in early April. Museum visitors will have the opportunity to try out interactive displays, including a crawl-through tunnel.

Project manager Stuart Holden said: "We are trying to create an exhibition which, as well as providing all the facts and figures about coal and mining, will tell the stories of coalminers and bring their experiences to life. We will not only be telling people about the role and experiences of the coal miner, but also the rescues and training they had to undergo.

"This will be an exciting and innovative exhibition that not only gives the facts, but brings the history to life."

The experience is being funded by a £97,600 grant from the Heritage Lottery Fund.

As part of the new exhibition, the museum is appealing for anyone wiling to donate items from the Cannock Chase coalfields. Those happy to loan items should email s.reavey@wlct.org

Car repair firm go-ahead

A CAR repair business has been given the go-ahead despite concerns about floodlighting and possible noise disturbance.

Euro Autofits has been given consent to start up in Bridgtown, creating four full-time jobs.

The Longford Road site was a car sales company but has been empty for some time.

Planning permission was needed to change its use from retail to industrial. Councillors voted to allow the firm to move in on the condition that certain noise and lighting restrictions are followed.

Cannock Chase Council's planning committee heard from the firm's Mohammad Suleman and resident John Spragg, whose home adjoins the site. The 76-year-old said his property was only 30ft away.

Concerns

He said: "I live in an ex-army hut made from timber and the possibility of tyres lying around that could be set alight concerns me. There is also the issue of noise and bright lights – I don't want it to be lit up like a fairground."

The council also received a letter signed by a further 11 objectors, some who worked for a nearby competing business.

The unit will open between 8.30am and 5.30pm on Monday to Friday, closing at 2.30pm on Saturday.

A condition has been placed on noise levels, which must not rise above 55 decibels for more than 10 per cent of the time, and at no time should it peak above 70 decibels.

Floodlights already exist at the site.

Foster carers meet Queen then become movie stars

RUGELEY foster carers Gill and Ken Cademy had a right royal welcome when they met The Queen.

Now, the couple are urging more people to consider fostering with children's charity Barnardo's.

Just a month after meeting Her Majesty, the Cademys tell their story in a new film aimed at recruiting thousands more foster carers. It was released this week as part of Barnardo's Fostering and Adoption Week.

"I can honestly say that fostering is the best thing I have ever done," said Gill. "I would really urge anyone who may be thinking of fostering to contact the charity."

Headquarters

In December the whole Cademy family, representing Barnardo's West Midlands Family Placement service, had the honour of meeting The Queen and Her Royal Highness The Duchess of Cornwall when they officially opened Barnardo's new headquarters in Barkingside, Essex. The Queen is the charity's patron while the Duchesss is its president.

West Midlands Family Placement Service (WMFPS) provides planned long term, short term, and short break /respite placements. The service specialises in placing sibling groups, disabled and non-disabled children.

The Cademys are approved foster carers who have a wealth of parenting experience between them.

Ken has two adult sons Jamie and Harry who live independently and Gill has a 21-year-old son Jack, who lives with them. They have an adopted daughter Becky, 18 , and the couple also fosters a daughter, aged six on a long term basis. Gill said: "Meeting the Queen and the Duchess was a great honour. They were both interested in our family make up and our experiences with Barnardo's. We all had a fantastic day."

Current figures released as part of Barnardo's Fostering and Adoption Week show that 8,600 more foster carers are urgently needed to look after children across the UK.

Stability

Brenda Farrell, head of fostering and adoption at Barnardo's, said: "Without the right foster family to care for them, many vulnerable children may never experience the love and stability they so desperately need. Barnardo's is looking for people with patience and commitment to provide a stable home for the most vulnerable children in the UK.

"Fostering is a caring career and I would encourage those who feel they have a lot of love to give to get in touch."

The minimum age to become a foster carer is 21, though there is no upper age limit.

To find out more about fostering visit www.barnardos.org.uk/fostering, call 08000 277 280 or contact West Midlands Family Placement Service on 01384 458585. To view the film of the Cademys follow http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pRim6D-B32Q

BURNTWOOD WI

PRESIDENT Gwyneth Howells welcomed everyone to the first meeting of the year and wished everyone a healthy and happy 2014.

Wine was given by Linda Miller to celebrate her 65th birthday. Jerusalem was sang and there was an update on county news and our forthcoming events in the 95th anniversary of the Staffordshire Federation.

Speaker for the evening was Nigel Morris who is a member of the Peel Society. His talk "The Peels of Tamworth" was very interesting and informative and was accompanied by a slide show.

Nigel told of the lives of the six Sir Robert Peels who lived at Drayton Manor. The most famous Peel was the second Baronet who was twice Home Secretary and founded the Metropolitan Police hence the name of "Bobby".

The Peel Collection and Police Museum can be seen at Middleton Hall, Tamworth.

The club is holding a Beetle Drive at Hammerwich Cricket Club in February, and a team of four will be representing Burntwood at the annual county quiz.

The competition for the Month was won by Thelma Littley, the thought for the month was read by Ron Box which was highly amusing.

The collection from our Christmas Party of £130 was sent to The Young Careers Association.

Address given by pantomime dame

Nothing like a dame . . . Richard Westcott was guest Cannock Townswomen's Guild's December meeting

CANNOCK TOWNSWOMEN

AT the last meeting of the year which was the guild's Christmas party, the ladies were entertained by pantomime dame, Richard Westcott from Birmingham.

Initially wearing a smart suit he stripped down to his vest and trousers and applied make up and wig, transforming himself into a flamboyant grand dame. The whole process was highly entertaining and humorous. Richard proceeded to show a selection of his dresses, shoes and embellishments, which included sets of home made large colourful earrings.

The guild was fully involved in his performance and joined in with the children's song 'There's a worm at the bottom of the garden'

Chairman Val Beale was applauded when she assisted him in a quick change routine and also gave the vote of thanks for a wonderful and exciting evening enjoyed by all.

Auction of unwanted gifts

ETCHING HILL WI

ETCHING Hill Ladies enjoyed a presentation by local butcher Simon Weston, on the making of pork pies and sausages.

This was followed by a tasting session, which proved to be very popular despite the fact that a number of members were on new year diets. A cheque for £120 was then presented to a representative from the Young Carers in Rugeley, who gave a short insight into the lives of children as young as five who have responsibility for the care of their parents. It is hoped that they can arrange an outing or something similar for the young carers, as a break from their daily duties.

The evening finished with an auction of unwanted Christmas gifts donated by members for the funds, this proved to be very enjoyable.

Man jailed for breaking pal's cheekbone in fight

A MAN who fractured a friend's cheekbone in a punch-up on a car park has been jailed.

Hayden Simms launched an assault on Oliver Wyman after the pair had been on a night out in Cannock town centre.

The incident was captured on CCTV and the footage was shown to a judge at Stafford crown court.

The film showed Simms throwing a punch at Mr Wyman's face before they fell grappling together on the ground.

However Miss Fiona Cortese, prosecuting, said it was not an unprovoked attack.

She said before moving out on to the car park, words had been exchanged between the two men in the pub. The court heard as they left the pub Mr Wyman was acting aggressively and being restrained.

Sentence

It was then that Simms moved forward and aimed a punch. Simms, aged 21, of Berwick Drive, Cannock, pleaded guilty to inflicting grievous bodily harm and was given a six-month prison sentence.

The court heard the March 9 incident took place only eight months after Simms had been given a community order for a previous offence of inflicting grievous bodily harm – also in an attack on a man in a pub.

When questioned, Simms said they had shaken hands after the fight and walked away.

Mr Neil Gerrity, defending, said his client had not been the initial aggressor. He said: "This wasn't something the defendant started in terms of violence."

Toy was cause of blaze

A TOY left on a hot plate was the cause of a house fire in Rugeley. Crews rushed to the premises, in Fernwood Drive, Springfields, after neighbours heard the smoke alarm at about 6.30pm on Tuesday. When crews arrived at the scene no-one was at the home.

Milestone for MP's office

Aidan Burley welcomes 3,000th visitor Karol Jones to his Help Zone

MOTORIST Karol Jones got a bubbly surprise when she called into the office of Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley to tell staff about problems with potholes.

As the 3000th visitor to the MP's Help Zone, his constituency office in High Green, Mr Burley presented her with a bottle of House of Commons champagne and a certificate. He told Mrs Jones, aged 67, of James Street, Chadsmoor, that he would write to Staffordshire County Council about her concerns.

Mrs Jones said: "This is a nice surprise.I wasn't expecting to see the MP here. I only came in to mention the poor state of the roads."

Salon shows care towards charity fund

Soul Care Aesthetics staff give Santa a makeover during a charity open day at the salon in Newhall Street

STAFF at a Cannock beauty salon have organised a host of events to support a charity being set up in memory of a baby girl who died of a severe heart condition.

Sienna Whittaker of Stafford was just 15 weeks old when she died despite being born a seemingly healthy 6lbs 4ozs.

Parents Michelle and Nick Whittaker, both 34, set up a charity fund which raised £13,000 in just two months.

They are now starting an official charity in their daughter's name – with help from their friend Rachel Morgan, who runs Soul Care Aesthetics in Newhall Street. Staff there have held cake sales, raffles, a grotto and clairvoyant readings – and gave Santa a makeover during an open day.

Mrs Morgan said: "I met Michelle when she was pregnant and she came into the salon as a rep for a piece of equipment used for non-surgical facelifts. We became friends and I wanted to do whatever I could to help them out."

Mrs Whittaker said: "I'm so grateful to everyone for their help."

Festive boost for town

SHOPPING centre bosses in Cannock have announced they smashed numerous sales targets over the Christmas period.

They say the figures prove that residents still love to hit the shops in the town.

Stores like Argos and New Look reported an increase in sales throughout the month of December against the same month the previous year.

Crazy Daisy, the latest addition to the centre, reported it had a very successful Christmas and is very positive of hits prospects for the year ahead.

Trend

Jo Thacker, owner of the fashion and homeware store, said: "We have had an incredible response from shoppers since opening Crazy Daisy in October.

"We are very much looking forward to a successful year ahead."

Natal Chapman, Cannock Shopping Centre manager, said: "Despite some major high street names reporting a decrease in sales over Christmas, our latest reported figures indicate that Cannock Shopping Centre certainly bucked the trend.

"We definitely noticed an increase in sales across the board in the last few days leading up to Christmas indicating that shoppers were holding out for last minute deals. Our Christmas events certainly made a difference in terms of footfall."

Long-serving choir tunes up for new year schedule

A POPULAR Cannock choir is gearing up for a busy 2014 schedule, and is appealing for new members.

The Cannock Ex-Servicemen's Club Male Voice Choir's 2013 season came at Christmas when members joined with South Staffs Age UK Cannock Hospital volunteers to entertain the in-patients with some traditional carols.

The choir was in great demand in the run-up to Christmas with performances and carol services at Shugborough Hall, clubs, care homes and hospices, with some concerts having to be turned down. Now the choir is back at its home at the Ex-Servicemen's Club, in Walsall Road, Cannock, to begin rehearsals for its new year programme.

And it can add to its repertoire thanks to a grant from the Midcounties Co-Operative Community Fund for new and replacement sheet music.

Support

Maxine Sharman, head of community engagement at the Midcounties Co-Operative, said: "We are delighted to be able to award this grant to the choir and to support them in the work they are doing in their community."

Being an ex-serviceman is not a requirement to join the choir – only four of its 13 members did military service. At one point the choir was 30-strong and won many competitions.

The Ex-Service name is part of its history, being the oldest choir existing in Cannock. It was formed in 1947 after the Second World War when members of the Ex-Servicemen's Club used to gather around the club's piano and sing.

To join, all that is needed is the ability to sing in tune, a commitment to practise on a Monday night from 7.45, be available for concerts, and to enjoy singing. Anyone interested can contact Patrick Warren on 01922 413489.

It's all in the game for enthusiasts

Paul Barrett with hand painted characters on sale

Lesley Dennis sells games and characters in Penkridge

MORE than 100 table top game fans flocked to a specialist convention in Penkridge.

Enthusiasts of Wargaming, the popular figurine-based games using military strategy and creativity, filled the Peace Memorial Hall, in Pinfold Lane.

There were more than a dozen sellers as well as demonstrations.

On sale were figurines, games and scenery, and there were free game giveaways. The event – the third of its type – was organised by Penkridge Wargamers which was founded by teacher Ryan McKnight.

Sellers

The 38-year-old said: "The event was ace and they seem to be getting bigger.

"I think that the hobby is becoming more popular with lots more clubs in the area. We had people come from quite a long way, including North Wales and Chester. We also had sellers come up from Oxford.

"There is a real lack of these sort of events so we had people travel from all over the country.

"It was a lot of fun and a chance to find out about new games, make some purchases and find out about developments. I have been into Wargaming since I was a kid and have been doing it ever since. It seems to be really taking off."

Jake McKnight, aged 12, with a box of hand painted characters on sale

Some of the most popular types of Wargaming includes Warhammer, Bolt Action and Flames of War.

Mr McKnight is also member of Wargaming club the Vine Inn in Rugeley. "We will be running the same sort of event again next year," he said. "If we can get a bigger venue I would expect that we could attract a lot more people but the Peace Memorial Hall is all we can get at the moment."

Scaffolding signals restoration project

Oliver Budd from CJ Roofing Services restores and repairs the 1807 signal box at Chasewater Heaths station

AN HISTORIC railway signal box has come in for a little tender loving care after being damaged in the recent high winds.

Original roof slates from the late Victorian structure at Chasewater Light Railway, near Burntwood, had been blown off in the stormy weather.

Now the signal box at the Chasewater Heaths station has been given an overhaul to return it to its former glory.

Six people in all had worked on the revamp, which also saw vandalised windows replaced and a refurbished coal fire stove installed.

Mark Sealey, the railway's general manager, said it was a labour of love. "It can be a bit of a nightmare at times, it's what we have to do," he said.

Rescued

"With the damage to the roof we took the opportunity to upgrade the signal box generally."

He said local tradesmen had been given the work with new tiles laid by CJ Roofing Services of Lichfield, the lead flashing replaced by the Lead Mill in Norton Canes and the stove being originally built by former Cannock factory Jellyman's.

The signal box, formerly at Hademore, near Tamworth, is one of three boxes that have been rescued from Network Rail and rebuilt at the site.

Also at Chasewater are the Brereton Sidings signal box that was saved from Rugeley and another from Madeley Junction, near Crewe.

The Tamworth signal box, which was donated with its levers missing, had been kitted out with a set of 15 levers acquired from a North Western Railway signal box at Hednesford.

Alert issued after spate of burglaries

HOUSEHOLDERS are being urged to be vigilant following an increase in the number of burglaries at homes in Burntwood.

Staffordshire Police revealed there has been a rise in the number of attacks on properties in the town, and neighbouring Lichfield since the start of October.

by Charlotte Lilley

Between October and December there was an increase of 12 burglaries, with thieves striking 27 homes, making off with televisions and laptops.

In October, they struck at homes 15 times and in November they targeted 17 dwellings.

Target

Burntwood Town Council chairman Ron Bradbury, said the figures were worrying but not unexpected.

He said: "It is expected that there would be a rise over the Christmas period, because people are after money and they know there will be lots of presents in houses and so unfairly target them.

"However, the figures show quite a jump from October to December so I would encourage people to be on their guard and keep their valuables out of sight and make sure windows and doors are locked."

"I want to reassure people that Burntwood is still a safe place to live because we have very little crime here."

Inspector Rachel Joyce, commander of Lichfield Local Policing Team, said she wants to encourage people to take measures to thwart would-be thieves.

She said: "We would ask that all residents look at their home security.

Consider using a timer switch to light up rooms and security lighting."

People can register their household goods and valuables on the national database www.immobilise.com for free.

Weller to perform once more in wild Wild Wood

Modfather Paul Weller appears on Saturday, June 28

Jessie J will also perform at the Chase forest concerts

ICONIC singer Paul Weller will perform at Cannock Chase this summer for the second time.

Weller first appeared to a sell-out crowd at Birches Valley as part of the Forestry Commission's Forest Live concerts in 2009. He will perform this year on Saturday, June 28.

It has been 30 years since 'The Modfather' first exploded onto the music scene with The Jam.

He later formed the Style Council and has had a string of solo hits including Wild Wood. Following on from two sold out Forest Live dates last summer, Weller said of the 2014 shows: "It's a favourite summer jaunt for me so I look forward to performing in a few of the forests that I haven't played in a good while".

Online

Tickets for his Cannock Chase performance are £46.20 and go on sale tomorrow (Friday) from the Forestry Commission box office on 03000 680400 or online at www.forestry.gov.uk/music

This year's concerts will be kicked off by Jessie J who performs on Friday, June 27. The 25-year-old Do It Like A Dude singer became the first artist to sign up for the concerts at the beauty spot.

Since that first hit single in 2011, she has gone on to sell 11 million songs and 2.5m albums worldwide and was a previous judge on the BBC's The Voice.

She said: "It's great to be taking in another four Forest Live dates."

Revenue from ticket sales is ploughed into improving the woodland. Previous artists to perform on The Chase include The Sugababes, Erasure, Jools Holland, Sophie Ellis Bextor, Status Quo and Simple Minds.

Keys to new college campus handed over

GF Tomlinson construction director Nick Banks hands over the keys to Chief Executive Principal Graham Morley

THE keys to a new £6m college campus have been officially handed over. The Cannock campus of South Staffordshire College was due to officially open yesterday (Wednesday) following the facelift.

Ahead of the official ceremony, the keys were handed over to Chief Executive Principal Graham Morley and his senior leadership team by Nick Banks, construction director for contractor G F Tomlinson. Mr Morley said he was delighted to receive the key to the building. He said. "The facilities re outstanding and the future of learning has now definitely arrived at South Staffordshire College."

Nick Banks at G F Tomlinson, said: "We are extremely proud to have completed this project which has undoubtedly transformed the campus."

JCB goes Dutch for deal

DIGGER giant JCB has scooped up an £11 million order for more than 300 of its machines to supply a rental company in the Netherlands.

The machines will be made at JCB's factories in Cheadle and Rocester, but all the cab units will be manufactured at the company's plant in Rugeley.

The work at Rugeley is core to JCB's recently announced £150m expansion plans and is to be transferred to a 350,000 sq ft factory to be built in Beamhurst over the next four years.

The 400-strong workforce at Rugeley will all be moved to the new site once it is completed.

The latest good news for JCB comes from plant hire company Boels Rental, which is investing in its third major order of JCB equipment in three years.

Fleet

The latest 300 machines, to be delivered by the end of March, will see Boels running a fleet of more than 1,000 JCB excavators, telescopic handlers and rough-terrain forklift trucks. JCB chief executive Graeme Macdonald said: "We are delighted to have secured such a significant order from one of Europe's most important rental companies."

Boels chief executive Pierre Boels said: "Performance and efficiency were key factors in our decision to purchase the JCB machines."

The Boels business, based in the Maastricht region, has more than 300 outlets and operates from more than 1,800 rental locations across Europe.

Actor Dyer's guitar sold off for charity

Restaurant manager Muktadir Miah and co-organisers Karen Phipps and Adam Paget, with the signed Danny Dyer guitar, which will be auctioned off for charity

A GUITAR signed by EastEnders actor Danny Dyer has gone on display in an Indian restaurant ahead of a charity auction to remember Charlatans drummer Jon Brookes.

The instrument is hanging above the bar in Lamp Restaurant and Bar on Upper High Street in Wednesbury. It will be sold off to raise money for The Brain Tumour Charity next month. The actor's fans can pay a small donation to have their photograph taken with it, with all proceeds going to the charity.

A lifelong friend of Mr Brookes, from Burntwood, Adam Paget met Mr Dyer at a recent event and asked him to sign the guitar. Mr Paget, 44, is behind a huge sell-out gig on February 8 in Darlaston being held in Mr Brookes' memory.

The event at Darlaston All Active, organised by Mr Paget and Karen Phipps, will see 16 confirmed acts play, including Britain's Got Talent finalist, 13-year-old Connie Talbot. To sponsor or donate prizes for the auction, contact Mr Paget on 07857 013857.

Schools will be worse off as funds cut

SOME schools in Staffordshire will be worse off under Government plans to change the way education cash is dished out.

The overall figure is in line with last year but has not increased with the rate of inflation – meaning it is a cut in real terms.

Forty-six of the county's secondary schools will fare worse, with nearly all facing cuts of up to 15 per cent, although the remaining 22 will see an increase in their budgets of up to 10 per cent.

On the other hand, primary schools will generally be better off with 216 getting more cash to spend while 78 are facing a cut.

by Rob Golledge

Fairer

Change is on the cards due to Government reforms to a framework of how money for schools should be distributed. The county council says the change will be fairer, stating some schools had been underfunded for years while others were able to build up reserves.

It said the Government reforms also meant some schools that had been heavily funded in the past would see the biggest cuts.

The names of each of the 362 primary and secondary schools and their new projected new budget is yet to be made public.

County councillor Ben Adams, cabinet member for learning and skills, said: "While the total funding available remains the same, it is clear that the new formula will affect some schools that have previously benefited from a formula with up to 38 different factors in it."

Councillor Adams said some of the schools would find it challenging but said there were 'winners and losers'.

He said: "For every school that will lose out there will be two that gain. There are winners and losers but on the whole it is much fairer."

The council's cabinet was set to decide on the proposal at a meeting yesterday (Wednesday).

Arrests made on assault

THREE teenagers, all female, have been arrested in connection with an attack on a woman in the car park of a leisure centre. Police confirmed they had arrested the girls, aged 18, 15 and 14 and all from Cannock, on suspicion of violent disorder. They have been bailed until March. The 19-year-old was attacked by a gang of up to 12 teenagers outside Chase Leisure Centre in Cannock on January 6 at 6.10pm. She suffered a serious hand injury and minor facial injuries and was treated New Cross Hospital in Wolverhampton.

The head pupil's view on life at college

Head and deputy boys and girls have written a collective letter to explain why they feel, St Francis of Assisi (SFA) Catholic Technology College is such a progressive place to gain an education.

STAFF and pupils feel happy and safe in the SFA community where teachers and learners have a close working relationship.

This creates a strong support for students to achieve their ambitions and aspirations. As students of the sixth form based in Aldridge, we are encouraged to be independent, creative and confident young people.

We have been taught from the start to be hard working and dedicated students who have a scholarly attitude towards school and the wider world of work.

It is incredibly easy to become overwhelmed with school work when you make the decision to continue with further education.

However, at SFA the teaching faculty is dedicated to ensuring that students achieve their full academic potential.

They ensure that students will always have a strong support system to assist in overcoming problems or difficulties they may face during their time here.

We believe it is vital to demonstrate proactive behaviour and work hard in order to be the best that we can be, therefore at St Francis we carry out our motto, 'Nil Satis Optimum' – only the best is good enough. Sixth form students play a vital role in our school community and we are involved in most events held during or after school where we engage with the younger students, parents and teachers alike.

We are expected to be role models inside and outside of school and evidence of this can witnessed in the dedication our head boy, head girl, senior prefects and subject ambassadors show.

Our Catholic ethos is the heart of our school and our morals and beliefs shape our community. This creates an environment where everybody is seen as an individual and is important.

We have pupils from as far afield as Lichfield and Tamworth as well as students from Birmingham, Walsall, Sutton and Aldridge itself.

Whatever career path you decide to pursue, our school will provide the support and guidance in order to ensure that you have the best chance of achieving your goals.

As students we are also provided with a wide range of opportunities to help develop a perspective of the world around us. For example, we take part in the annual pilgrimage to Lourdes. Further opportunities such as university visits or inviting outside speakers to provide expert talks on their field of work ensure we have a clear awareness of the future paths we hope to take post-18.

What we believe makes our sixth form excel is the opportunities on offer to consolidate learning and help SFA students stand out when they move on to higher education, training or employment.

We all feel that St Francis' sixth form has positively impacted on our lives, enhanng and building our characters, shaping us into better all round people.

St Francis of Assisi would be perfect forany student who wants a happy, secure and successful place to study.

Our school has highly qualified staff to guide you to success and we firmly believe that if you show ambition and passion for your subject then you will achieve success in every way possible.

St Francis of Assisi head and deputy boys and girls Jake, Jack, Amber and Eden

Going to great lengths for Staffordshire learners

Wherever your skills and ambitions lie, the college has a support network to help

St Francis of Assisi (SFA) Catholic Technology College student Jack explains how settling into the school was straightforward, as a learner who lives in Staffordshire.

AS a Lichfield resident, going to St Francis of Assisi (SFA) Catholic Technology College was daunting for me initially, as there were only a couple of people I knew.

It meant me going out of my way and travelling quite a distance to go to a school full of people I didn't know.

However, Mrs Mullins and the rest of the school made it as easy as possible for me to settle down and make friends. If you are worried about joining our school and not knowing anyone, I can assure you there is nothing to worry about as everyone here will do their very best to help you settle down and make friends, just as I did. You can also apply for a bursary to help towards your transport costs. The school and sixth form have had quite an impact on my life, I believe it has made me a better person and enhanced all my characteristics. All the staff here work very hard in putting on various activity days for all the sixth form, such as the aspirations day that we recently had.

Careers

Successful people from different careers, many of whom were past pupils, came to talk to us about how to get where they are today. It is days like these that helps to prepare us and build qualities that we need for post-18 career paths, whether it be university or apprenticeships. We are also given many opportunities that other schools do not offer, things such as an annual Lourdes trip.

I believe the Catholic ethos in school makes a very warm, friendly environment that makes all of us feel safe and secure and I would recommend SFA to any student looking at post-16 options who are looking for a happy, successful place to study.

Toasting a good crop at wassailing ceremony

Beggars Oak Clog Dancers perform for the crowds at the annual wassailing ceremony at the Wolseley Centre

ANCIENT crafts, clog dancing, and Morris Men all featured at a popular annual wassailing ceremony at the weekend.

Visitors took part in a series of ancient customs aimed at pleasing tree spirits to make sure they bear a good crop at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's headquarters.

Some 400 people attended the event at the Wolseley Centre with attractions including clog dancing and a performance by Lichfield Morris Men. Members from the local wood turners association also gave demonstrations.

Fundraising assistant Sam Pachner said: "This is something we do every year and it is always well attended.

"The wassail is an age-old English tradition where people drive away the evil spirits from orchards to ensure a good harvest."

Visitors were invited to sing traditional wassailing songs and stick toast covered in cider into the trees. This is usually done to feed the robin, which is believed to be the guardian of the orchard.

FOCUS ON RUGELEY

Charter Fair marks 100 years since Great War

ORGANISERS of Rugeley's historic Charter Fair have chosen to mark the centenary of the start of the First World War for this year's event.

The Charter Fair takes place on Saturday, June 7 and will be themed around the Great War.

by Laura Blyth

Thousands traditionally turn up to the fair each year. Last year Rugeley was transformed into a sea of colour, music and entertainment for a Jungle Fever theme.

Town council clerk Naazlin Somani said the 100th anniversary of the First World War meant a lot to the people of Rugeley.

Massive

She said: "It's a massive thing to commemorate. The festival committee decided to go with something that meant a lot to the people of Rugeley.

"We're still in the early stages of planning the fair. We're asking for businesses and individuals to get involved."

There will be a parade through the town at midday followed by an afternoon of activities looking back at the year 1914 and the war. Usually there is live music as well as stalls.

Rugeley Town Council chairman John Rowley added: "The committee came up with the theme. We'll be having the parade as usual and we are hoping to get some army groups along as well."

At last year's Charter Fair, around 8,000 people, young and old, joined in with the festivities.

The fair is organised by Rugeley Town Council and marks the signing of the market charter in 1259.

The closing date for people to apply to run stalls or exhibitions at the fair is March 28. Call 01889 574074.

Matthew's a life-saver

Matthew McLean, aged 14 from Rugeley, with St John Ambulance cadet leader Pat Goacher

A RUGELEY life-saver leaped to the aid of a pensioner when he was hit by a car on New Year's Eve. As a member of St John Ambulance Matthew McLean knew he had to keep calm, but also that he had to put his skills to the test.

After seeing the man in his 60s being hit in Hednesford Road, Matthew, aged 14, jumped out of the car he was in and went into action. His mother Jenny, 46, said: "Matthew leapt out of the car and rushed to the man's aid.

"It was incredible to see because he didn't care about getting dirty, he just wanted to make sure he was okay. We didn't know it at the time but he had a punctured lung."

"Matthew held the victim's head in place to keep his airways open. He was so calm and collected and when the paramedics came, he helped them do a log roll and put the man onto a stretcher."

The Cannock Chase High School pupil hopes to become a paramedic with the Air Ambulance and has raised more than £3,000 for the charity during the last three years.

The pensioner sustained a chest injury as well as suspected pelvis and lower limb injuries.

NEWS

Too much spent on parking enforcement

THOUSANDS of pounds in parking fines are being raked in by councils. But councils across Staffordshire have been told to improve finances as some are spending too much on parking enforcement.

They are battling to reduce the deficit between the amount they spend on providing a parking service and the cash brought in by fines.

Cannock Chase Council is set to make £152,300 for the 12 months between April 2013 and 14, up by £17,000 on the previous 12 months. The number of fines given out has also gone up. However, the authority will still end up with an estimated £28,500 deficit when the cost of providing the service is taken into account.

Only attend A&E if vital, health chiefs tell patients

HEALTH chiefs have urged people only to attend A&E at Stafford Hospital if it is vital. A sharp increase of very sick patients has heaped pressure on waiting times and bed space.

The Weston Road site has had to postpone planned operations this month because of a winter staffing crisis.

Bosses have now has asked those with minor illnesses to use alternative NHS services such as their GP, the 111 helpline or a pharmacist unless it is an emergency.

Dr Paul Woodmansey, medical director at Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, said using other services would help staff focus on those patients who really need emergency services.

Stabilised

He said: "Although we are not experiencing exceptionally high numbers of people coming to our A&E, what we have seen over the past few weeks, and continue to see, is many more very sick patients who need to be assessed and stabilised in A&E before being admitted into hospital.

"This is putting extra pressure not only on our A&E staff and making waiting times longer, but also affecting the availability of beds as these patients often need to remain in hospital longer.

"I would like to thank local people for their patience and ask for their continued co-operation over the coming weeks."

Chief executive Maggie Oldham previously said she could not rule out closing A&E if the hospital was unable to cope with an increase in demand.

Increase in number of schools to academies

THE number of struggling primary schools paired with academy sponsors in a bid to foster improvements has exceeded Government targets, figures have shown – including 20 in the West Midlands.

In 2012, 200 of the country's weakest primaries became sponsored academies. The DfE promised to broker 400 similar partnerships in 2013. It has now been revealed 445 struggling schools have been brought under the wing of academy sponsors in the past 12 months.

Experience

A DfE spokesman said: "The best way to turn around the stubborn underperformance that exists in some schools is to bring in a sponsor. These sponsors bring with them experience, strong leadership, know-how – and a track record of success.

"It is vital we continue to raise standards so all children leave primary school with a thorough grounding in reading, writing and maths."

Government bosses said primary school tables showed that sponsored academies had improved their performance by three percentage points, against an improvement in all schools of one per cent.

In Staffordshire, The REAch2 Academy Trust was partnered with four schools including Heath Hayes and Norton Canes primaries.

Cars in collision

A COLLISION near a retail park entrance in Cannock partially blocked the road for more than an hour. Motorists came to a standstill on Voyager Drive at its junction with Orbital Way at 5pm on January 8 following the crash between a blue Citroen C3 and white Seat Ibiza. No one was injured.

New benefits cap is imposed on families

DOZENS of families across South Staffordshire have had their benefits capped at £26,000 a year.

Latest figures show there are 17 households in Cannock Chase, 16 in Lichfield, 14 in South Staffordshire and 10 in Stafford where the new cap has been imposed.

The government has said it wants to stop people getting more than £26,000-a-year in benefits in a bid to get people off the dole and into work.

MEMORY LANE

Prominent political and literary figures were among the regular visitors to Teddesley Hall at Penkridge

Teddesley Hall in all its splendour. It was built by Sir Edward Littleton in 1754 and demolished by its new owner in 1954

The Duke of Wellington, who became Prime Minister

Baron land became a top political salon

ONCE home to many of the leading lights of Georgian and Victorian era, Teddesley Hall was built in 1754 by Sir Edward Littleton.

He developed a large park surrounding the hall, noted for the quality of its cattle and its reputation for agricultural innovation.

This was later enhanced by his great nephew and heir, Edward Walhouse who changed his name to Littleton. He became an MP for Staffordshire County and then South Staffordshire and in 1812 was created the first Baron Hatherton

Under Baron Hatherton, Teddesley became a political and literary salon. It was here that many of the landed gentry would enjoy soirees and sporting weekends in the woods at nearby Cannock Chase. The likes of the Duke of Wellington, Sir Robert Peel – both future Prime Ministers, William Huskisson and politician's wife Lady Anne Wilmott-Horton all graced the hall with their presence.

MP Huskisson, a former Brewood Grammar School pupil, was killed when struck by the locomotive Stephenson's Rocket, while Lady Anne is said to have been the inspiration behind the line 'She walks in beauty like the night' from a Lord Byron poem.

Memorials

Baron Hatherton was married for 37 years to Hyacinthe Wellesley, the daughter of the Duke of Wellington's older brother Richard.

When she died she was buried at Penkridge and the parish church, St Michael's and All Angels, contains memorials to her, her daughter, also called Hyacinthe, and her granddaughter who died from tuberculosis at the age of 32. Following his wife's death, Baron Hatherton remarried. His new bride was Caroline Anne, widow of Edward Davenport, of Capenthorpe, Macclesfield.

He became a staunch supporter of Staffordshire in Parliament and was also in favour of catholic emancipation. In 1831, through his own persistence, the 'truck system', by which workers were paid with good instead of money, was outlawed.

The hall ceased to be the family home in 1920 and during the Second World War was requisitioned by the government to be used for billeting troops and prisoners of war.

After the war it remained empty for many years and was sold off by the fifth Lord Hatherton. The hall was demolished by its new owner in 1954.

Waiting time targets still being missed by A&E wards

PATIENTS are still not being seen quickly enough at accident and emergency departments across the West Midlands – despite fewer people attending hospital.

Health trusts in the Black Country and Staffordshire failed to see 95 per cent of patients within the government target of four hours, figures show.

This is despite the overall number of patients attending A&E going down – from 125,200 in October, November and December in 2012, to 120,396 in late 2013.

Although the numbers are not far off the level expected, health chiefs can be hit with fines if they don't meet the target.

Bosses expressed disappointment with the figures.

Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust dealt with the fewest number of people within the four-hour deadline. It saw just 87.2 per cent of patients within four hours in October, November and December, NHS England has revealed.

Recording

Trusts in Walsall, Dudley and Wolverhampton saw 92.9 per cent, 93.4 per cent and 92.9 per cent respectively and Sandwell & West Birmingham Hospitals NHS Trust, while recording the lowest figures in the Black Country at 90.8 per cent, showed an improvement on the last three months in 2012 when it saw 89.3 per cent of patients within a four hour period.

Mid Staffordshire, where services face being dissolved and taken over by trusts in North Staffordshire and Wolverhampton under new proposals, saw performance hit a low in the second week of December when it saw just 76 per cent of its A&E patients within four hours.

Russells Hall in Dudley was the best performing hospital. Chief executive of the Dudley Group NHS Foundation Trust, Paula Clark, said: "Meeting this national target is a real challenge."

Bosses in Walsall and Wolverhampton both said they were 'disappointed' with the figures, while Sandwell and West Birmingham said: "We are working tirelessly to improve."

Three-year spending on HS2 line hits £300m

MORE than £300 million has already been spent on the controversial HS2 rail link in less than three years, new figures have revealed.

Expenditure has ranged from staff wages and public relations to a promotional video and iPad covers for staff. The spending was revealed by the TaxPayers' Alliance.

The controversial project could start in 2017. It will cut a 45-mile swathe through Staffordshire.

In total, HS2 Ltd paid £302 million to outside businesses and other organisations between January 2011 and October 2013.

A sum of £1.2m was spent on outside public relations and parliamentary lobbying companies, £1.4m was paid to a branding company for 'consultation event management' and £128,000 on a promotional video.

Jonathan Isaby, chief executive of the TaxPayers' Alliance, said: "It's clear that bureaucrats in charge of delivering HS2 have embarked on a wasteful spending binge at taxpayers' expense."

Joe Rukin, Stop HS2 campaign manager, said: "We always knew the amount being wasted on HS2 is staggering, but to see it thrown away so blatantly without the project having the go-ahead is a disgrace."

Spokesman Ben Ruse said: "HS2 will be delivered on budget and on time."

Christmas decorations handed down to school

A SUPERMARKET team has begun its community work for 2014 by putting its Christmas decorations to good use. The team at Sainsbury's, Cannock have provided the Fulfen Primary School in Burntwood with a selection of colourful decorations which were hung over the Orbital Way stores's shop-floor throughout December.

Charity co-ordinator Kerry Flint handed over the tree decorations of robins, puddings, trees and snowmen to PTFA members Karen Worrallo-Dobson and Linda Collis.

Store manager Paul Davis said: "We're delighted to donate these decorations to Fulfen School. We received great feedback from our customers on this year's decorations and it's great to ensure they've found a good home."

Dancing on Ice
ITV, 6.15pm
The atmosphere between Hollyoaks actress Jorgie Porter and her professional partner Sylvain Longchambon may have seemed rather icy, but it was still a shock to see the 2012 runner-up become the first celebrity to be voted off the show. Judge Jason Gardiner and the voting public have made it clear that the celebs won't be able to glide through on their past glories, but who will impress this week,? At least hosts Phillip Schofield and Christine Bleakley will be on hand to give the unlucky couple a consoling hug on what has been dubbed the "kiss and cry" step.

Pick of the Week

Peter hopes for a novel success in his new role

All for one, and one for all – BBC1's latest costume drama has a familiar ring to it.

However, don't expect this 10-part drama to be a slavish adaptation of Alexandre Dumas's classic novel – the Beeb describes it as being 'inspired by' the book instead, so we're guessing it will be more slick, sexy and glamorous, and punctuated by jaw-dropping special effects and stunts.

While most of the corporation's lavish period pieces do well in the ratings, this one may benefit from a few extra viewers tuning in to see Peter Capaldi in action.

The last time he was on telly, he'd just regenerated as the new lead in Doctor Who, and you can bet that some of the millions who tuned into that will watch The Musketeers to find out how their new hero gets on here.

The Scottish star is playing an altogether different role, however – he won't be saving the universe; instead, he'll be making lives a misery.

Capaldi plays Cardinal Richelieu, the arch enemy of Musketeers Athos, Porthos and Aramis and their young friend d'Artagnan.

"Cardinal Richelieu is protector and confidant of the king as well as being essentially the first minister of France," says Capaldi of his alter ego. "He runs the country. He is a military figure as well as a religious and political one. He has a network of spies and operates like an illegal secret service to pursue his ends. He is by nature Machiavellian."

Sounds exciting. However, the actor is the first to admit that although playing Richelieu was intriguing, he wouldn't have liked to have been around in the 17th century: "I would have enjoyed the frocks, and certainly some of the food would have been appealing, but the disease and hygiene would have worried me. I certainly would have missed the NHS!"

Some of the cast and crew needed medical help during filming.

"The production suffered from a lot of injuries: dislocated shoulders, bruised shins, the odd concussion," reveals Capaldi. "It's one of the occupational hazards of being a swashbuckler."

He came a cropper himself while shooting a scene in which Richelieu threw Milady, played by actress Maimie McCoy, against a wall.

"I felt a jab of pain," he says. "And when the director said 'cut' I looked down and saw my thumb was on the wrong way round. Nasty. Instinct took over and I shoved it back, which made my eyes water and my knees weak.

"The lesson clearly was, never get into a fight with Maimie McCoy..."

The first episode introduces the central characters, played by Tom Burke, Santiago Cabrera, Howard Charles and Luke Pasqualino, and focuses on what happens when d'Artagnan leaves his rural home and makes his way to Paris to petition the king.

However, his visit looks set to end in disaster when a loved one is murdered as Richelieu and the beautiful but dangerous Milady work together to further their villainous ambitions...

Peter Capaldi stars in The Musketeers, Sunday, BBC1, 9pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY
Helix
Channel 5, 10pm
In the world of science fiction, Ronald D Moore is almost royalty thanks to his work on such shows as Star Trek: The Next Generation and Battlestar Galactica. He's also the driving force behind this new, 13-part thriller about a team of scientists from the Centres for Disease Control, who travel to the Arctic Circle to investigate a rumour involving dangerous experiments and the outbreak of a deadly new virus. Heading the team is Dr Alan Farragut, played by Billy Campbell, who was last seen in the US version of The Killing. He not only has to deal with a potential threat to life on Earth, but also his feelings for his ex-wife, a biologist joining him on the expedition.

TUESDAY
Death in Paradise
BBC1, 9pm
With its blue skies and sandy shores, Saint Marie is heaven on Earth. And at least (some of) the dead bodies in this week's show are meant to be there as a zombie film is being shot on the island. However, when one ill-fated stand-in shuffles off this mortal coil, Humphrey (Kris Marshall) and company have to investigate the murder. Apparently the cause of death is poison, but more mysterious is the motivation: who would want to kill a humble stand-in who had only spent a week on the island? Was the film's lead actress, Lexi Cunningham (Michelle Ryan), actually the intended victim in a plan that went pear-shaped?

Paul O'Grady's Animal Orphans
ITV, 9pm
Comedian and erstwhile drag entertainer Paul O'Grady may be known for his cutting humour and over-the-top personality, but viewers of his many documentaries will be familiar with a softer side to the comic. That's a trait he displays here to the full as he spends time in Africa helping to hand-rear orphaned animals. He first visits a cheetah sanctuary, where he gets close to a litter of six adorable cubs, and then an animal rehabilitation centre to meet a young black rhino whose mother was shot and killed. Naturally, these pint-sized critters help crank up the 'aww'-factor, but the show has a serious side, too – can the animals be taught to survive before being released into the wild?

WEDNESDAY
The National Television Awards 2014
ITV, 7.30pm
What makes this awards ceremony mean so much to actors, producers, directors and writers – each category is voted for by fans, the people who actually watch their programmes and make them either hits or flops. This year, prizes will be given out in such categories as Talent Show, Factual Entertainment, Drama, Serial Drama, Documentaries and Entertainment Presenter, but there's a new kid on the block too – TV Detective. Dermot O'Leary presents the shindig live from The O2 in London.

The National Television Awards 2014, Wednesday, ITV, 7.30pm

Russia on Four Wheels
BBC2, 9.30pm
Anita Rani and Justin Rowlatt are fast becoming one of the BBC's most durable double acts. Two years ago they joined forces on India on Four Wheels, in which they took a road trip around the country. Their next collaboration involved a trip to China. Now they're off to Russia, to find out how life has changed there in the 25 years since the fall of the Berlin Wall. Both presenters begin their journeys in Sochi, home of the forthcoming Winter Olympics. Anita will concentrate on 'new Russia' by meeting westernised entrepreneurs and rebellious youths.

THURSDAY
Hidden Kingdoms
BBC1, 8pm
Anyone with kids might begin to suspect they're part tree shrew after watching this edition of the nature documentary – the creature possesses super-fast metabolism, which means it is never not hungry, so is always on the look-out for food. Unfortunately for the tiny rodents, they face all manner of peril as they try to find a feed, including fire ants, giant snakes and even a carnivorous plant. Here, Stephen Fry narrates footage of a young tree shrew in Borneo as it darts through the rainforest, before describing how a chipmunk collecting acorns for winter has his store cupboards raided by a neighbour.

Botched Up Bodies
Channel 5, 10pm
You might want to make sure you've long since eaten your dinner before settling down, as this series, which isn't for the faint of heart, wraps up tonight. The programme tells Claire Hawker's story. Her breasts were left horrifically scarred after a cut-price boob job in Prague went wrong. All hopes are now pinned on cosmetic surgeon Nick Percival to rectify the damage. Meanwhile, Michael Avola's six attempted hair transplants have left him severely scarred, £7,000 out of pocket and still bald.

FRIDAY
Room 101
BBC1, 8.30pm
Man Down's Roisin Conaty, Pointless star Richard Osman, and beloved broadcaster Joan Bakewell hope to convince host Frank Skinner that their list of loathed subjects is banished for the first of a new run. The inaugural category is Nature, and Joan gets to pitch her first choice. "Gardening is housework out of doors. There's no difference," she explains. Joan also raises the good point that housework indoors has been streamlined, but the fact you have to get on your knees in the garden on rubber mats that don't protect your knees, and with all the tools that go with it, it is quite rightly hard work.

Hyundai looking to take step up

By David Banner

HYUNDAI'S quest fro constant improvement means that it's set a high bar for itself with the latest version of its smallest car, the i10.

Is the Korean company's reputation for quality still apparent at this price point?

Hyundai is looking for its i10 city car to step up from being merely branded good value for money to being considered best in class – or thereabouts. With smart styling, plenty of pace inside, strong equipment levels and a focus on refinement, it's in with a genuine shot.

Sometimes, the stars just align perfectly for a car manufacturer. Such was the case back in 2009 when two largely unrelated circumstances coincided. The introduction of the Government's Scrappage Scheme saw a number of tired old cars being taken off our roads and resulted in a commensurate quantity of buyers with a modest sum of cash in their hands looking for something to buy. Fairly new onto the market and having just replaced the underwhelming Amica was the rather appealing Hyundai i10. Sales skyrocketed and for a while, the i10 was the country's best selling car. It didn't last. While i10 sales continued quite strongly, the end of the Scrappage Scheme saw buyers return to their usual buying habits.

Since then, Hyundai has tried hard to keep citycar buyers interested. It updated the engine choice in that MK1 model and facelifted the car a little in 2010, even resisting the temptation to significantly increase its bargain basement pricing. By the end of 2013 though, with over five years being a fairly decent innings for a car in this class, it was time for something fresh.

Stronger

Step forward the second generation i10. It arrives to find that competition in the citycar sector has become much stronger in the last few years, with this Hyundai now having to contend with cars of the quality of the Volkswagen up!, Skoda Citigo and SEAT Mii triplets. In other words it'll have to be excellent to even get a look in.

Hyundai didn't go big on choice when the first i10 was launched. Everyone got a 67PS 1.1-litre petrol engine and that was their lot. That engine was subsequently upgraded to a 1.2-litre powerplant and it's this unit that carries over into the latest car, albeit mildly tweaked to offer better efficiency numbers and now developing 87PS, good for 62mph in 12.3s on the way to 106mph. Customers are also offered a 66PS 1.0-litre engine at the entry level which makes 62mph in 14.9s on the way to 96mph.

There's still no diesel engine offered and it's probably a sound decision. Buyers of this type of car rarely rack up enough miles to make the incremental cost of buying a diesel work out versus the savings they'd see in fuel bills.

As with 95 per cent of Hyundai cars sold in Europe, this i10 has been designed and developed at the Hyundai Motor Europe Technical Centre in Russelsheim, Germany, and is built at Hyundai's factory in izmit, Turkey.

It's a bigger thing than its predecessor, adding 80mm to the length and 65mm to the width. It sits 50mm lower too, helping it avoid the Noddy-car look of many citycars.

Inside, the i10 offers best-in-class legroom and cargo capacity. Front and rear passengers benefit from combined legroom of 1,890mm, while boot capacity has been boosted by more than 10 per cent to 252-litres with all seats in place. By contrast, a Skoda Citigo offers 251-litres, so Hyundai just squeaks in above the class benchmark.

It's sobering to think that this car is priced at just under £8,500, some 30 per cent higher than when its predecessor debuted in 2007.

There's a choice of three trim levels - S, SE and Premium - and at SE level, there's an extra £500 to pay if you want the 1.2-litre engine rather than the 1.0-litre unit. At entry-level, you get the basics - central locking, electric front windows, CD tuner + USB, Daytime Running Lights, ISOfix and tilt adjust steering wheel as standard.

New Generation i10

If it had ears, they would be burning

High praise indeed from the big names in the motoring press. And they're not the only ones being complimentary about the New Generation i10. Available from 30th January 2014, it won't be long before you can have your say.

The Volkswagen Amarok in the Pyrenees

Volkswagen Amarok meets the challenge

THE Volkswagen Amarok has undergone the ultimate test drive after being taken on a week-long trip around the Pyrenees.

The commercial vehicle was taken on an off-road adventure back in October and more than proved its credentials on the rough terrain.

The Amarok was borrowed by Swiss Vans Limited, a leasing company which Greenhous VW has been working with for the past year.

After supplying Swiss Vans with a wide range of vehicles for its leasing and contract hire services, Greenhous VW, based in Bilston, agreed to lend the company an Amarok to put through its paces.

Steve Yates, national fleet sales executive at Greenhous VW, said: "I had been dealing with Swiss Vans for a number of years prior to my position here. Over the past 12 months Greenhous has also built up a strong relationship with the company.

"We supply them with six to ten Volkswagen vans a week and are planning to extend the brands we have available after the group's recent acquisition of six new manufacturers including Nissan and Renault."

Largest

Swiss Vans is based in Bridgend, South Wales and is one of the largest van suppliers in the EU. With a combined experience of over 20 years in car and van sales and strong manufacturer and vehicle supplier connections, the company has established itself as an experienced and reliable dealer.

Ian Hill, managing director at Swiss Vans Limited, said: "We took the Amarok with us to join up with Lost World Adventures which provide guided overland expedition tours for 4x4 vehicles. We had a great experience alongside the other off-road vehicles, travelling through Spain to reach the Pyrenees for a five-day adventure through the mountains. The Amarok outperformed all the other 4x4s in every aspect, being much faster and easier to drive. The only difficulty we encountered was with its size, as it was much larger than the others and therefore slightly harder to manoeuvre over tricky terrain.

"Despite the issues with its size, the Amarok is incredibly easy to drive in general with its 180PS and eight-speed automatic gearbox. Hill descents were easy, and with just the push of a button, the vehicle more or less drove itself downhill at a slow speed."

Ian concluded" "We have always had a positive experience dealing with Greenhous and over the past 12 months have established a relationship we hope to continue long into the future.

"Taking the Amarok to the Pyrenees was an amazing opportunity which wouldn't have happened if Greenhous hadn't lent us the vehicle to begin with."

Steve continued: "When Ian asked us if he could borrow the Amarok, we thought it would be a great opportunity to put the truck well and truly to the test. The vehicle is known for being one of the most robust and practical pick-ups on the market, but we wanted to see how it would perform in a more challenging environment.

"We are thrilled with how well the Amarok handled the Pyrenees and that Ian was pleased with its performance. We were happy to supply him with the vehicle and hope that the relationship between both businesses continues to flourish."

The best way to sell your motor

WE all like the thought of upgrading our cars – new or used, makes no difference. There is just something delightfully satisfying about driving away in that newly acquired machine.

Of course before most of us buy a new car, we need to sell our old one. So what options do we have to part with our no longer loved motor? Perhaps selling privately might be the answer. Or maybe part exchange?

And then there is the most recent of innovations the 'We want any car' type companies, which will take any drivable car off your hands in any condition for cash. So if you are looking to sell your car, here are your options:

Selling privately

This can sometimes be a lengthy process. The flip side is that we can at least expect a better price selling to the public. However, to achieve this, we would need to spend money on advertising and then spend time having prospective purchasers visit, often at inconvenient times. And after all the bargaining is done, we still might not achieve the price we were expecting.

Advantages: Can sometimes achieve a satisfying price.

Disadvantages: Cost of advertising. Strangers visiting our home. The inconvenience of taking phone calls and booking appointments to view, often at inconvenient times.

Part exchange

Take your car along to a dealer who will then give you a price based on you purchasing a new car from him. Sounds simple. However the dealer will often quote you a 'price to change' which means how much you will have to give the dealer plus your car, to take delivery of your new model. The actual price paid for your car isn't always revealed.

Advantages: Quick and easy. Sell and buy at the same time.

Disadvantages: You don't always know how much you are being given for your car as the price is hidden in the deal. You don't know if you are getting the best price on the car you are purchasing.

The new 'We want any car' type companies

This concept which seems to be getting ever more popular. The process is simple – log on to www.WeWantAnyCar.com and enter the details of your car and get an instant value. Take your vehicle along to one of their depots where they will carry out a full on-site appraisal to ensure the car is in the condition that you claimed online.

A price is then agreed and you are given a cheque which clears in your bank within four working days. Simple!

Advantages: All done online, no personal pressure to sell. No hassle or inconvenience. Your car can be sold in minutes.

Disadvantages: Face value price might not be what you expected.

Scrapyard

Still an option, but today you have to pay them for taking it off your hands.

Advantages: You can dispose of it whenever you wish.

Disadvantages: It could actually cost you money.

The Infiniti Q50 sharply styled and easy on the eye in either of the body styles

Infiniti wants to give the Germans a poking on their home turf starting with the Q50

Newest car brand may be ready to come of age

By Matt Kimberley

INFINITI has only been a separate company from its parent Nissan brand for a little more than a year now. And Infiniti cars have only been built at all since 1989.

Undeterred, the firm is going up against some of the toughest opposition in the car market in the mighty shapes of Audi, BMW and Mercedes, who dominate the European premium car market almost completely.

The Q50 is the spearhead with which Infiniti wants to give the big Germans a poking on their home turf. It's sharply styled and easy on the eye in either of the body styles.

Sport trim looks surprisingly different from the front when you put it next to a more relaxed Premium-spec car, but in isolation both look strikingly – refreshingly – different to what's already out there. It's sized in between BMW's 3 Series and 5 Series, so it might just be a great catch-all compromise.

The interior design is good, too, with a large centre console giving a snug, comfortable feel to a cabin that isn't as open and spacious-seeming as some thanks to a windscreen and A-pillar sitting closer to the occupants than in rival cars. The console itself is dominated by two vertically stacked large screens; the top one recessed slightly into the surface and tasked with displaying the navigation system readout and visuals from the manoeuvring cameras (front and rear).

Unfortunately this screen is tilted back significantly enough to be prone to glare, especially since it's not angled towards the driver in any way. If the sun is coming through the passenger side window it can be hard to see parts of the navigation readout.

The lower screen, mounted flush with the console and topped with a smooth, glossy plastic cover, is effectively the touch-screen control panel via which the driver can adjust the myriad settings and personalisation options. It is rather vulnerable to fingerprints, but it's quick to respond to touch and offers a clear, crisp app-style layout that anyone with a smartphone should feel right at home with.

Economical

Cabin storage is a mixed bag, with short-ish door pockets but a big central bin, which also houses two 12-volt power outlets, two USB ports, a 3.5mm jack and even a 'video in' socket to pipe pictures to the top screen – but not while you're driving.

Speaking of driving, you can have the Q50 as a diesel, which borrows Mercedes's slightly clattery but potentially very economical 2,143cc four-cylinder engine, or as a petrol-electric hybrid that uses the electric motor as a 'supercharger'. It works like a charm, too, giving the Q50S (the hybrid's special designation) an instant swell of torque low down in the rev range before the 3.5-litre V6 takes over to pump the overall power output to 360bhp.

In this guise the car excels in slow traffic under gentle throttle inputs, where the engine can switch off altogether until the battery is depleted. With the air conditioning on, though, the engine quite often has to keep cutting back in to power the auxiliary systems.

The rear-wheel drive version of the Q50S is a very fine steer on twisty roads, too, where a genuinely adjustable and composed chassis shines through, thanks in part to the clever Direct Adaptive Steering (DAS), which in a world-first move isn't connected to the front wheels by any mechanical means.

It's completely fly-by-wire, like a fighter jet, which means the steering responsiveness can be customised to how the driver wants it. It works brilliantly, giving an increased measure of control and a greater sense of confidence, flattering a driver but also giving them the green light to exploit the wealth of talent it has.

There are some small niggles with the new Q50, like the sat-nav screen's glare issue, but it's thoroughly enjoyable to drive.

It cruises effortlessly, looks arguably much more stylish than the alternatives and feels solid. Infiniti's customer service is reportedly somethingspecial, too, and you get the feeling that the youngest premium car manufacturer out there might be about to come of age.

Boots on other foot as home side wins

Cannock Ladies 1st 3
Boots Ladies 1st 2

BOOTS, newly promoted into the national hockey league this season, were hit hard by an opener from a Sarah Martin deflection in the first couple of minutes.

The home side went into half time 1-0 in a fairly even game. Second half saw Boots step up the pressure, a defensive error gifting them a goal. A final 10 minutes saw Boots miss and score a penalty flick following a yellow card for the keeper.

Cannock equalised when Booth converted a penalty flick before Graham finished the game off.

Cannock Ladies 2nds 3
Leek Ladies 1sts 1

The first goal came from some great team play with Sophie Tibbetts scoring. Leek managed to come back into the game from a free hit outside the D.

The second half saw Cannock continue to build from the back.

Cannock Ladies 3rds lost their first game in 2014 4-1 in a friendly game against Matlock 2nds.

If you're interested in joining or would like to know more about our club check out the website www.cannockhockey.org

Cannock ladies train on a Monday night 6.30pm – 7.30pm at Chase Park.

Chase for runners-up spot is now on

Yardley & District 0
Burntwood 21

AFTER the latest round of matches Burntwood find themselves on 47 points alongside Shrewsbury and Handsworth in the chase for runners-up spot to likely league winners Veseyans.

Ben Holt's side overcame a tricky assignment away to Yardley to maintain their challenge.

Burntwood established a nine point lead at the break and they made the game safe with two second half tries.

It was to the credit of their defence that they kept the home side scoreless although they were helped by the home place kicker missing four penalty attempts.

Will Peach opened the scoring at his third attempt following a good drive by the forwards from a line out. Craig Seedhouse scraped a drop goal over just past the half hour mark.

The hosts had two opportunities to open their account from the tee but both missed the target.

It was left to Peach to show the way with his second penalty goal, skimming the ball over from long range right on half time.

Yardley responded well to their team talk during the break and had slightly the better of the third quarter. However, their only scoring opportunities were two failed penalty kicks at goal.

Rugby

The forwards broke the siege by working the ball out of their own 22, with Luke Rookyard prominent, and then Peach put his side in good position with a punt into the home 22.

Yardley cleared the danger to touch to begin with but the ensuing line out produced the first try. Zak Shingler put Charlie Liggins away but he was hauled down close to the line. Possession was recycled quickly left for Dave Yardley to feed winger Elliot Woolley who scored.

Burntwood were lasting the pace better by the last quarter as they stretched the home defence.

The last score was worth waiting for. Jack Neal won line out possession on halfway and the forwards drove him at speed deep into Yardley territory.

When the ball was fed wide Shelley popped up in the backs to put pace into the attack.

Possession was then fed back right for Holt to stretch over under the posts for an excellent try. Peach's conversion was a formality and heralded the final whistle.

After a fairly close first half which ended 24-10, Burntwood Thirds beat Essington Seconds 55-10.

Two players each recorded a hat trick of tries, Matt Ford and Callum Grundy. There was one apiece for Jack Johnson, Tom Haywood and Adam Ansell plus four conversions from Rob Jones and one from Ansell. Burntwood visit Eccleshall on Saturday.

Scholars show four-ce to nail the top scorers

Belper Town 1 Chasetown 4

MAKE no mistake about it winning at Belper is no mean result. The Nailers started the day as the league's top scoring team with the league's top scoring player Jon Froggatt leading the line with 22 goals to his name.

Chasetown took the lead in the 14th minute after Belper protested against a corner kick being awarded. Ramone Stephens dribbled across the edge of the box and laid the ball to Danny Bragoli.

His first shot was probably heading wide but as the ball came straight back out to him off the goalkeeper's punch, Bragoli fizzed an unstoppable shot into the roof of the net – the first goal of his second spell with Chasetown.

Ten minutes later, Chasetown doubled their lead when Lee Butler drove in a right foot shot from the edge of the penalty box which struck the foot of defender Chris Jones and looped up and over keeper Dave Ratcliffe.

If Jones was unfortunate then, within a minute he had some good fortune when his cross lopped over Ryan Price inside the far post.

Belper committed men forward for a period and Tesfa Robinson and Richard Teesdale stood strong in defence to repel the Nailers' attacks.

There was a feeling that the next goal would be crucial and it was Chasetown who got it, just eight minutes after the restart.

Stephens advanced towards the Belper back four and slipped an inch perfect pass into Nick Wellecomme whose finish was clinical, guiding the ball beyond Ratcliffe as he advanced.

Football

Belper may have looked good going forward and had another sustained spell of pressure on Chasetown's goal but again the defence stood firm and then Craig Harris' men exploited weaknesses in the home defence.

Eight minutes from time, it was game, set and match to Chasetown when a corner found its way to Paul Sullivan who drilled a low shot home from six yards.

Twice, Chasetown went close to a fifth. First, Sullivan's headed flick on to Wellecomme saw the Chase No. 9 drill a shot inches wide of the post with Ratcliffe beaten and then Ratcliffe was very fortunate not to see a card of any colour when Sullivan had just the keeper to beat, poked the ball beyond him and the Town keeper blocked Sullivan's run.

Butler's free kick sailed wide.

Hayes let lead slip away twice in the rain

Tipton Town 4
Heath Hayes 2

TOWN came fom behind twice to take points in a very keenly fought Midland Alliance game played in torrential rain.

Both sides should be commended for producing a good, competitive game which started in explosive fashion with three goals in the first 14 minutes.

Firstly Joe Geldart set up Dave Waple to open the scoring for Hayes but five minutes later a superb cross from Graham Ashton found Jordan Archer who equalised with an unstopable header only for Andrew Davies to restore the visitors lead with a fine volley from 20 yards.

In first half stoppage time Town equalised thanks to substitute Ben Hadley.

The home side took the lead on 52 minutes when the impressive Marvin Nisbett beat three defenders to set up Hadley and then laid on another for Archer.

Town then had their tails up and looked as if they would run away with it but a couple of smart saves from Adam Jenkinson and a timely intervention from Ben Maddox stemmed the tide.

Teenager Phillips to race ahead

RUGELEY racing driver Dan Phillips is all set for a highly competitive season on the Midlands short oval raceways.

The 19-year old has been racing stock cars from a young age at Hednesford Hills Raceway beginning in the junior Ministox formula.

Since turning 16 he has been gaining experience in senior racing at his local raceways plus the Standlake oval in Oxfordshire.

For 2014 Dan moves up into the Stock Rods formula for 1400cc race-tuned hatchbacks, and will be competing in a Citroen Saxo which was unveiled at last weekend's Autosport International Show at the NEC in Birmingham.

Dan and his Stock Rod will be racing at Hednesford Hills Raceway, Birmingham Wheels Raceway and Pr1mo Raceway Northampton during the coming motorsport season. Visit www.incarace.co.uk for full fixtures.

It's sheer Bliss-ett as team triumphs

Hednesford Town 4
Boston United 2

HEDNESFORD Town made a welcome return to the Play-Off places in the Skrill North after their festive struggles with a superb team performance.

Kidderminster Harriers loanee, Nathan Blissett, provided the majority of the problems Boston United experienced against The Pitmen who also saw Jamey Osborne, back from injury, put in a very encouraging performance.

It was Marvin Robinson who opened the scoring for The Pitmen on 13 minutes. The lead was doubled when Paul McCone headed in.

The visitors' man-of-the-match, Ricky Miller, halved the deficit on 31 minutes with a shot past Dan Crane.

While The Pilgrims' vocal supporters were still celebrating the goal Blissett turned brilliantly and crossed for substitute Neil Harvey to tap in at the back post as Hednesford immediately hit back and that third strike proved pivotal.

Blissett deservedly added a goal to an all-action performance just after half time when he finished smartly from a Tom Thorley through ball and, with Osborne taken off as a precaution, the home side coasted towards victory.

A Miller consolation and late Boston pressure was repelled by Hednesford.

Wolves get it together

Wolves 2 Preston NE 0

IT'S taken a little longer than he may have hoped but Kenny Jackett finally got it all on Saturday – the performance, the goals, the win.

Preston North End never quite came to the boil and took only their second defeat in 17 games on the chin but the manner in which Jackett's team exerted a measure of authority over opponents of such high momentum added to the head coach's satisfaction.

And it would be unfair to go any further without mentioning the excellent performance of David Edwards.

He had already had one effort, clipped over the advancing Declan Rudd, cleared off the line before an identikit move saw the ball sit up nicely for a 28th-minute finish.The second goal has been a recurring problem for Jackett's team but not for Lee Evans on this occasion.

Sullivan hat-trick shoots side into quarters

Doodson Cup Round 3
Chasetown 3 Barwell 1

Football

PAUL SULLIVAN netted his second hat-trick in just over a fortnight as Chasetown progressed into the quarter-finals of the Doodson Sport League Cup.

After a dusting of snow and rain throughout the 90 minutes, it was great testament to the Chasetown ground staff that the game started and finished, with their hard work rewarded with a fifth consecutive Chasetown victory.

They had to do it the hard way though as Northern Premier side Barwell forced goalkeeper Danny Watson into an early fine save from the right boot of Tyrone Kirk and then the Leicestershire side took the lead just after the half hour.

Luke Barlone sprinted clear and was clipped inside the box by Watson with referee Mr Perry pointing straight to the spot. Thankfully for Watson the official only deemed the challenge worthy of a yellow card and Barlone took the kick himself to give Barwell the lead.

Astonishingly, it was only the second goal Watson has conceded in five Chasetown games, both of which were penalties with the 35 year old yet to concede a goal in open play in his Scholars career.

After the break though, it was only a matter of time before the confidence of four straight wins turned the home side into match winners. Just three minutes into the second half, Jack Farmer slipped the ball into Sullivan, who had a lot to do but turned sharply and fired beyond Liam Castle.

Chasetown took the lead just after the hour when Sullivan timed his run to perfection and lobbed Castle with the cutest of chips inside the keeper's right hand post.

Three minutes later, Sullivan had his third match ball of his short Chasetown career after earning a free kick on the edge of the area for handball. Lee Butler ran over the ball and Sullivan's right-footer struck the ball into the wall, but when the rebound fell to him, his drilled shot went through what remained of the wall and squirmed under the body of Castle.

Castle beat away a Butler shot at the near post, while Watson made two fine saves to deny Barlone and substitute Nigel Julien.

Craig Harris' men now await the quarter-final draw which could see the Scholars drawn against the likes of FC United of Manchester, Witton Albion, AFC Fylde and Stamford.

PUSH PUTS PITMEN INTO SECOND SPOT

Hednesford Town 3 Stockport County 1

HEDNESFORD Town were able to move back up to second place in the Skrill North following a dominant 3-1 victory over former Football League side Stockport County.

Football

On a windswept night at Keys Park goals in each half from Neil Harvey and another from Jamey Osborne proved to be the difference for the home side.

This was the first ever competitive meeting between the two sides and the game got off to a lively start with Hednesford goalkeeper Dan Crane being forced to act quickly twice to prevent the visitors scoring.

At the other end Osborne saw a shot superbly tipped wide by Ian Ormson all in the opening five minutes.

Nicking

Harvey should have perhaps done better in the 12th minute after nicking the ball off Jordan Fagbola but he shot wide from just inside the penalty area.

He made no mistake five minutes later though as he prodded home at the back post to give Town the lead after the visitors had failed to clear their lines.

Stockport almost responded immediately with Kristian Dennis seeing his effort cleared off the line by Darren Campion.

However things soon got better for Town when County's Tunji Moses was shown a straight red card for a late tackle on Elliott Durrell. Despite this man advantage The Pitmen were unable to extend their lead going in to the halftime break.

Five minutes into the second half they managed to find that second goal though as Francino Francis nodded on a Paul McCone cross to Osborne who superbly drilled the ball home via the upright.

The game was as good as over in the 55th minute as Town added a third when Harvey flashed home a header off the post following a Durrell corner.

Despite the scoreline and the man disadvantage County kept pressing and Crane was forced into two smart saves only to be beaten in the 66th minute when Dennis turned his man and slotted home from 12 yards.

There would be no big comeback from the visitors though and despite both sides having half chances, including a shot from Town's Nathan Blissett which got stuck in the mud in the six-yard box, no further goals would follow.

Hednesford will look to consolidate their position in the league when they travel to Bradford Park Avenue on Saturday (18) with a 3pm kickoff.

Neil Harvey watches his header going in for his second goal against Stockport County

Keeper in Rich rewards

Walsall 1 Oldham 0

THE scene at the final whistle summed up the qualities that have lifted Walsall into the play-offs.

As referee Fred Graham called a halt to a super game, the Saddlers' players raced to hero Richard O'Donnell and mobbed their goalkeeper in a public show of the spirit that has taken them into the top six.

Sam Mantom's 65th-minute goal settled an even contest in favour of Dean Smith's side, who have crept under the radar to move in to the League One play-off mix.

But it was O'Donnell's fabulous penalty save in stoppage-time that sealed a hard-fought victory for the hosts and took them sixth.

And it was the reaction to it that epitomised the togetherness that saw Walsall withstand Oldham's advances and might yet bring greater glories later in the campaign.

In truth, the Saddlers were a little fortunate to escape a closely-fought game with all three points. But they rode their luck and the collective will and desire that has kept Smith's men on the edge of the promotion shake-up inspired O'Donnell to a moment of magic.

Brandy coming back to Banks's

FEBIAN BRANDY has made a shock return to Walsall on loan from Sheffield United.

The 24-year-old winger, who quit the Banks's for Bramall Lane in the summer, has agreed to rejoin the Saddlers until the end of the season – subject to clearance.

Brandy became a firm fans favourite last season.
